Proceedings of the Twenty-Second Annual ACM Symposium on Principles of Distributed Computing ,2003 This paper presents an efficient asynchronous protocol to compute RSA inverses with respect to a public RSA modulus N whose factorization is secret and shared among a group of parties Given two numbers x and e the protocol computes y such that $y \equiv x^{-1} \pmod{N}$ A synchronous protocol for this task has been presented by Catalano Gennaro and Halevi Eurocrypt 2000 but the standard approach for turning this into an asynchronous protocol would require a Byzantine agreement sub protocol Our protocol adopts their approach but exploits a feature of the problem in order to avoid the use of a Byzantine agreement primitive Hence it leads to efficient asynchronous protocols for threshold signatures and for Byzantine agreement based on the strong RSA assumption without the use of random oracles Counter Hack Reloaded Ed Skoudis,Tom Liston,2006 This guide empowers network and system administrators to defend their information and computing assets whether or not they have security experience Skoudis presents comprehensive insider s explanations of today s most destructive hacker tools and tactics and specific proven countermeasures for both UNIX and Windows environments Christian Science Sentinel ,1948
