For Students Preparing for the AP® United States History Exam

10-17%

of the APUSH exam

The fourth unit of the AP® United States History (APUSH) course focuses on the period from 1800 to 1848, from Jefferson's presidency through the era of Jacksonian democracy and Antebellum reform.

This unit is eligible to be assessed on every portion of the exam (including the DBQ).

POLITICS IN THE ERA OF JEFFERSON

Thomas Jefferson referred to his victory in the 1800 election as a "revolution." In some ways, this claim was justified, as Jefferson's party secured control of both the presidency and Congress. Jefferson cut taxes and federal spending to bring about his vision of a "wise and frugal government." His greatest success was the Louisiana Purchase, gaining control of the Mississippi River and paving the way for westward expansion. In foreign policy, Jefferson strove for neutrality, endorsing Washington's neutrality policy during the Napoleonic Wars.

Jefferson was never able to gain control of the federal judiciary, whose unelected members served life terms. John Marshall, a Federalist who was nominated as chief justice by John Adams, exercised considerable influence over the judiciary. In Marbury v. Madison (1803), Marshall declared that the Supreme Court had the power of judicial review, allowing it to strike down laws that conflicted with the Constitution. The McCulloch v. Maryland (1819) decision upheld the constitutionality of the national bank, strengthening the power of the federal government.

Chief Justice John Marshall reinforced the Federalist legacy until the 1830s.

AMERICA ON THE WORLD STAGE

Jefferson had opposed Washington's Neutrality Policy during the 1790s, he chose to maintain the policy as president. "Peace, commerce, and honest friendship with all nations," Jefferson said in his First Inaugural Address, "extending alliances with none." When Britain's Royal Navy began boarding American ships and impressing (forcing) American sailors into service, Jefferson chose to advocate for the Embargo Act, which cut off all foreign trade, rather than actively involve the United States in the Napoleonic Wars. The Embargo Act was a failure to the point that Jefferson's successor, James Madison, gave in to congressional demands for war with Britain. The War of 1812 resulted in a settled boundary between the United States and Canada and ended British support for Native American tribes in the Great Lakes region.

After the War of 1812, American leaders turned their attention toward the American continents. In 1823, President James Monroe's administration issued the Monroe Doctrine, declaring that the United States would oppose any further European colonization of the Americas. Although the United States lacked the military strength to enforce the Monroe Doctrine at the time, the doctrine became a hallmark of American foreign policy.

THE MARKET REVOLUTION

After the War of 1812, the United States began transitioning from a primarily agricultural economy toward capitalist economy based on commerce. Historians describe this transition as the Market Revolution. After struggling during the embargo, New England became the first region to invest in textile manufacturing. Thousands of young women left home to work at the Lowell mills in Massachusetts.

New inventions drove economic growth. Wasserkote revolutionized transportation, turning rivers into highways. Eli Whitney's machine cotton a profitable cash crop for Southern planters with the cotton gin. John Deere, an Illinois blacksmith, invented the steel plow to help Midwestern farmers plant crops in the region's sticky soil.

In the early 1800s, steamships revolutionized travel and commerce, with their ability to travel against river currents.

THE POLITICS OF SECTIONALISM

Andrew Jackson's victory at New Orleans ended the War of 1812 on a high note, sparking a surge of national pride. Americans emerged from the war eager for economic growth and to decrease the national economy's reliance on Europe. Henry Clay's American System sought to use a national bank, protective tariffs, and federal funding for internal improvements to spur economic growth and independence from Europe. Southern politicians opposed the American System, as they traded cotton for European manufactured goods and remained skeptical about large banking institutions. The Missouri Compromise temporarily resolved sectional disputes about the expansion of slavery by admitting Missouri into the Union as a slave state and restricting slavery north of the 36°30' line in the Louisiana Purchase.
