Hernández, Janusz Kacprzyk, 2020-07-25 This book is the first volume in a collection of contributions arising from a multidisciplinary project developed in the field of agri food value chain analysis. The respective papers combine a range of disciplines to analyse major agri food challenges in Europe and South America offering readers a practical understanding of how risk and uncertainties can be managed by means of validated data and results from agri food systems analysis. Experts from agronomy, information communication and technology, operations and supply chain management share their findings and propose novel approaches. Given its scope the book will be of interest to a broad readership who want to learn about current agri food challenges and requirements and to professionals whose work involves real life industry requirements food and/or farming    Food Processing for Increased Quality and Consumption Alexandru Mihai Grumezescu, Alina Maria Holban, 2018-04-08 Food Processing for Increased Quality and Consumption Volume 18 in the Handbook of Food Bioengineering series offers an updated perspective on the novel technologies utilized in food processing. This resource highlights their impact on health industry and food bioengineering also emphasizing the newest aspects of investigated technologies and specific food products through recently developed processing methods. As processed foods are more frequently consumed there is increased demand to produce foods that attract people based on individual preferences such as taste, texture or nutritional value. This book provides advantageous tools that improve food quality, preservation and aesthetics. Examines different frying techniques, dielectric defrosting, high pressure processing and more. Provides techniques to improve the quality and sensory aspects of foods. Includes processing techniques for meat, fish, fruit, alcohol, yogurt and whey. Outlines techniques for fresh, cured and frozen foods. Presents processing methods to improve the nutritional value of foods    Agriculture Value Chain — Challenges and Trends in Academia and Industry Jorge Hernández, Janusz Kacprzyk, 2025-02-04 This book stands as a significant milestone in the realm of agricultural research and innovation representing the comprehensive efforts of the RUC APS Project. The RUC APS Project officially known as Enhancing and Implementing Knowledge Based ICT Solutions Within High Risk and Uncertain Conditions for Agriculture Production Systems was a collaborative initiative under the H2020 European Framework running from October 3 2016 to April 2 2022. Spearheaded by the esteemed Prof Jorge Hernández formerly of the University of Liverpool UK and currently affiliated with Universidad Adolfo Ibáñez Santiago de Chile the project brought together a consortium of 16 participants from 5 EU countries and 3 partners from 2 third countries. This book marks the culmination of rigorous research and insights garnered through a meticulous peer review process involving contributions from various RUC APS international conferences held between 2021 and 2023. It delves into the pressing need to address the challenges faced by modern agricultural systems particularly agricultural value chains amidst volatile and uncertain environmental conditions. The ever changing landscape of resources coupled with factors like unpredictable weather patterns, pest infestations, market fluctuations and fluctuating commodity prices necessitates a holistic and adaptive approach to ensure resilience and sustainability across the agricultural value chain. Navigating these complexities requires informed decision making processes that account for risks throughout the entire agricultural lifecycle. The complexity of these decision making paradigms underscores the critical importance of this book and the insights gleaned from the RUC APS Project. By shedding light on multifaceted challenges and proposing innovative solutions this collaborative effort aims to pave the way for a more resilient and sustainable agricultural landscape.

Disorder Peter A. Swenson, 2021-11-30. An incisive look into the problematic relationships among medicine, politics and business in America and their effects on the nation's health. Meticulously tracing the dramatic conflicts both inside organized medicine and between the medical profession and the larger society over quality, equality and economy in health care, Peter A. Swenson illuminates the history of American medical politics from the late nineteenth century to the present. This book chronicles the role of medical reformers in the progressive movement around the beginning of the twentieth century and the American Medical Association's dramatic turn to conservatism later. Addressing topics such as public health, medical education, pharmaceutical regulation and health care access, Swenson paints a disturbing picture of the entanglements of medicine, politics and profit seeking that explain why the United States remains the only economically advanced democracy without universal health care. Swenson does however see a potentially brighter future as a vanguard of physicians push once again for progressive reforms and the adoption of inclusive, effective and affordable practices.

Instruction in Multilingual and Multicultural Universities Birgit Henriksen, Anne Holmen, Joyce Kling, 2018-07-17. English Medium Instruction in Multilingual and Multicultural Universities analyses the issues related to EMI at both a local and international level and provides a broad perspective on this topic. Drawing on field studies from a Northern European context and based primarily on research carried out at the University of Copenhagen, this book introduces a topical global issue that is central to the higher education research agenda. It identifies the issues and challenges involved in EMI in relation to central linguistic, pedagogical, sociolinguistic and socio-cultural concepts. It captures university lecturers' experiences in the midst of curricular change and presents reflections on ways to navigate professionally in English to meet the demands of the multilingual and multicultural classroom. English Medium Instruction in Multilingual and Multicultural Universities is key reading for researchers, pre and in-service teachers, university management, educational planners and advanced students with an interest in EMI and the multilingual multicultural university setting.
