

Week 7-Chapter 12

Family Adaptation across Cultures toward a Loved One Who is disabled

- Family (unit of persons united through blood, adoption, or marriage)
- Only 25% of American households are made up of married men and women and their children (traditional households)
- Same-sex partners, cohabitation relationships, single parents, blended/mixed families, extended family households, and other combinations
- Family obligations and challenges are impacted by the availability of resources (social, financial, personal)- not the structure of the family
- 65 million Americans care for a family member with a disability
- These families are more likely to live in poverty and have a lower median income despite increased medical and childcare expenses
- Among children with disabilities who are 3 to 21 years old, 28% are living below the low poverty level, affecting their health, living arrangement, family interactions, productivity, and well-being
- Family competence is considered by many to be a key factor in adjustment to Disability- can impact recovery/adjustment, well-being, and success of an individual with a disability

6 Characteristics of Healthy Families Living with a Disability

- Commitment to family over self, coordination of family roles/responsibilities, working toward mutual goals
- Togetherness, family time, celebrations, quality meals/playtime
- Appreciation and admiration of individual strengths, talents, interests, encouragement of individual pursuits
- Good communication which facilitates a sense of belonging, diminished frustrations, improved family relations and conflict resolution, non-avoidance of problems
- Spiritual well-being (family sharing a common faith that increases family cohesion)
- Willingness to face the reality of difficult situations and cope effectively, systematically, and rationally

Reactions of Family to Disability

1. Emotional Reactions -Chronic Sorrow (loss); Caregiver Burden (anger, resentment, depression); Novelty Shock Crisis (intensified by lack of social supports, lack of information and societal reaction)
2. Stress Reactions
 - When any demand placed on an individual or system exceeds coping capacity. All families respond to change differently (for better or worse)
 - Stressors: repeated medical and emotional crises, financial hardships, difficult schedules, modification of activities and goals, restricted social life, societal isolation, fatigue, difficulty in educational placements, marital/family discords, difficulty accessing childcare, making health decisions, medical costs, etc.
 - Higher financial income has been found to allow for increased parental coping and adaptability, and the ability to spend time supporting and nurturing children.
3. Marital Discord- Intense demand of daily caretaking, unequal division of labor, less time for leisure, preexisting marital discord, the severity of a disability, acquired vs.
