Thinking in Writing

Donald McQuade, Robert Atwan, 1988     Alphabetic Catalogue of the English Books in the Circulating Department of the Cleveland Public Library Cleveland Public Library, 1889     Writing Against Time Michael W. Clune, 2013-01-09 For centuries a central goal of art has been to make us see the world with new eyes Thinkers from Edmund Burke to Elaine Scarry have understood this effort as the attempt to create new forms But as anyone who has ever worn out a song by repeated listening knows artistic form is hardly immune to sensation killing habit Some of our most ambitious writers Keats Proust Nabokov Ashbery have been obsessed by this problem Attempting to create an image that never gets old they experiment with virtual ideal forms Poems and novels become workshops as fragments of the real world are scrutinized for insights and the shape of an ideal artwork is pieced together These writers voracious in their appetite for any knowledge that will further their goal find help in unlikely places The logic of totalitarian regimes the phenomenology of music the pathology of addiction and global commodity exchange furnish them with tools and models for arresting neurobiological time Reading central works of the past two centuries in light of their shared ambition Clune produces a revisionary understanding of some of our most important literature     Textures of Belonging Andreea Răclăuș, 2021-07-16 The longstanding European conception that Roma and non Roma are separated by unambiguous socio cultural distinctions has led to the construction of Roma as non belonging others Challenging this conception Textures of Belonging explores how Roma negotiate and feel belonging at the everyday level Inspired by material culture sensorial anthropology and human geography approaches this book uses ethnographic research to examine the role of domestic material forms and their sensorial qualities in nurturing connections with people and places that transcend socio political boundaries     Unity, 1888     Catalogue...authors, Titles, Subjects, and Classes Brooklyn Public Library, 1878     Journal of the Royal Society of Arts, 1877     Journal of the Society of Arts, 1877     Journal of the Society of Arts Royal Society of Arts (Great Britain), 1877     Writing the Materialities of the Past Sam Griffiths, 2021-06-14 Writing the Materialities of the Past offers a close analysis of how the materiality of the built environment has been repressed in historical thinking since the 1950s Author Sam Griffiths argues that the social theory of cities in this period was characterised by the dominance of socio economic and linguistic cultural models which served to impede our understanding of time space relationality towards historical events and their narration The book engages with studies of historical writing to discuss materiality in the built environment as a form of literary practice to express marginalised dimensions of social experience in a range of historical contexts It then moves on to reflect on England's nineteenth century industrialization from an architectural topographical perspective challenging theories of space and architecture to examine the complex role of industrial cities in mediating social changes in the practice of everyday life By demonstrating how the authenticity of historical accounts rests on materially emplaced narratives Griffiths makes the case for the emancipatory possibilities of historical writing He calls for a re evaluation of historical epistemology as a primarily socio scientific or literary enquiry and instead proposes a specifically architectural time space figuration of historical events to rethink and refresh the relationship of the urban past to its present and future Written for postgraduate students researchers and academics in architectural theory and urban studies Griffiths draws on the space syntax tradition of research to explore how contingencies of movement and encounter construct the historical imagination     Journal of the
