

"Here is an amazing paradox! The very employers and politicians and publishers who talk most loudly of class antagonism and the destruction of the American system now undermine that system by this attempt to coerce the votes of the wage earners of this country. It is the... old threat to close down the factory or the office if a particular candidate does not win. It is an old strategy of tyrants to delude their victims into fighting their battles for them.

They carefully conceal from him [the worker] the fact that under the federal law, he receives another insurance policy to help him if he loses his job, and that the premium of that policy is paid 100 percent by the employer and not one cent by the worker. They do not tell him that the insurance policy that is bought for him is far more favorable to him than any policy that any private insurance company could afford to issue. That omission is deceit."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, speech at Madison Square Garden, October 31, 1936

The ideas expressed in the excerpt have the most in common with which of the following?

- A. The trickle-down economic policy of the 1980s, when the Republican administration a
- B. The counterculture movement of the 1960s, when American youth protested U.S. involvement in the Vietnam War
- C. The Progressive movement of the 1920s, when the middle class called on the federal government to regulate American labor practices
- D. The feminist movement of the 1970s, when women pushed for a constitutional amendment that would guarantee political, social, and economic equality for all women
