

SUPER AFR PART # 4606-RA001 V. 03/2001

SUPER AFR OVERVIEW

The HKS Super AFR is the very first airflow sensor computational device in the industry with a built in CPU. The advantage of having a built in CPU is that instead of making connections to the airflow meter voltage, the characterization of each airflow sensor is inputted at the CPU so it can calculate the correct amount of air flowing in. Since this conversion will be made to this specific intake volume, the correction ratio of fuel will be perfect and proportionally correct. The Super AFR is compatible with most Import and Domestic 12V, 2-12 cylinder vehicles that utilize a hot wire, Karman Vortex, or pressure sensor. The internal CPU allows it to be versatile and be adjusted on many of the newer type airflow sensors. Also incorporated in the Super AFR is the ability of the air/fuel ratio controller as modification programs and require further specific tuning levels. The response function, similar to the one in the VPC, allows the adjustment to the fuel settings upon throttle inputs to improve drivability and performance. The ECU function is automatically programmed with the data from the actual self-learning calibration and automatically adjusted to correct mixture imbalances in relation from discharge valves upon deceleration.

6. Pull on the wire and the connector to confirm a good connection.

SPICE CONNECTOR INSTALLATION

1. Place the wire to be spliced into side A (the side without the stopper) and the wire from the AFR to side A (the side with the stopper). Make sure the wire touches the stopper.
2. Fold side B over into A using pliers, making sure the snap is engaged.
3. Fold side C over and make sure it snaps completely closed.

NOTE: Do not strip wire ends. Gently pull on the wire to ensure a proper splice.

The Oxford Handbook of Africa and Economics: Context and concepts Célestin Monga, Justin Yifu Lin, 2015 For a long time economic research on Africa was not seen as a profitable venture intellectually or professionally few researchers in top ranked institutions around the world chose to become experts in the field This was understandable the reputation of Africa centered economic research was not enhanced by the well known limitations of economic data across the continent Moreover development economics itself was not always fashionable and the broader discipline of economics has had its ups and downs and has been undergoing a major identity crisis because it failed to predict the Great Recession Times have changed many leading researchers including a few Nobel laureates have taken the subject of Africa and economics seriously enough to devote their expertise and creativity to it They have been amply rewarded the richness complexities and subtleties of African societies civilizations rationalities and ways of living have helped renew the humanities and the social sciences and economics in particular to the point that the continent has become the next major intellectual frontier to researchers from around the world In collecting some of the most authoritative statements about the science of economics and its concepts in the African context this handbook the first of two volumes opens up the diverse acuity of commentary on exciting topics and in the process challenges and stimulates the quest for knowledge Wide ranging in its scope themes language and approaches this volume explores examines and assesses economic thinking on Africa and Africa's contribution to the discipline The editors bring a set of powerful resources to this endeavor most notably a team of internationally renowned economists whose diverse viewpoints are complemented by the perspectives of philosophers political scientists and anthropologists
