African Development Making Sense Of The Issues And Actors:

African Development Todd J. Moss,2007 In the ongoing battle against global poverty the countries of Africa continue to present the greatest challenge African Development offers a comprehensive introduction to the issues actors and institutions interacting across the diverse continent Each issue chapter is organized around three fundamental questions Where are we now How did we get to this point What are the current debates Interspersed throughout are vivid sidebars acquainting the student with ten well known big men and ten equally important but lesser known African actors The text also includes the ABCs of development jargon

Re-Inventing Africa's Development Jong-Dae Park,2018-12-31 This open access book analyses the development problems of sub Sahara Africa SSA from the eyes of a Korean diplomat with knowledge of the economic growth Korea has experienced in recent decades The author argues that Africa's development challenges are not due to a lack of resources but a lack of management presenting an alternative to the traditional view that Africa's problems are caused by a lack of leadership In exploring an approach based on mind set and nation building rather than unity which tends to promote individual or party interests rather than the broader country or national interests the author suggests new solutions for SSA's economic growth inspired by Korea's successful economic growth model much of which is focused on industrialisation This book will be of interest to researchers policymakers NGOs and governmental bodies in economics development and politics studying Africa's economic development and Korea's economic growth model

Agriculture, Autonomous Development, and Prospects for Industrialization in Africa Emmanuel Ndhlovu,2025-03-06 The book investigates the intersection of agriculture and development in Africa and how it impacts rural industrialisation prospects It provides a comprehensive view of the position of agriculture in African socio economic activities and the agricultural sector's potential as the source for continental development and industrialisation prospects Significant research has been done on African development with a focus placed on the problematic role played by slavery colonialism and later by incompetent African leaders who failed to steer development of the type that delivers a progressive sustained and sustainable transformation of lives and societies There is limited focus on the possibility of agriculture being the potential basis of African development and the chance for industrialisation This is a matter of concern considering the dominance of agriculture as a livelihood and income source for many people on the continent In contributing to the debate on development in Africa this book aims to show how agriculture can serve as the basis for African development and industrialisation This will be achieved by i providing a detailed historical description of the position of agriculture in African socio economic activities ii outlining the trajectory of African development with a focus on agriculture innovation and mechanisation iii identifying challenges to the development of African agriculture iv exploring the opportunities for agricultural development in Africa and v providing practical and policy recommendations to improve African agriculture and make it the engine for development and industrialisation Utilising a multidisciplinary approach which combines political economy social policy financial inclusion and empowerment approaches the book also shows how engagement of youth and women digitalisation and the provision of support by public and private actors can jump start agriculture as the engine of African development and industrialisation Taken together with this conscious effort to promote a multi disciplinary discussion the book is valuable reading for students policymakers and activists interested in emerging new directions in African development thinking and research Africa in Contemporary Perspective Manuh, Takyiwa, Sutherland-Addy, Esi, 2014-05-08 An important feature of Ghanaian tertiary education is the foundational African Studies Programme which was initiated in the early 1960s Unfortunately hardly any readers exist which bring together a body of knowledge on the themes issues and debates which inform and animate research and teaching in African Studies particularly on the African continent This becomes even more important when we consider the need for knowledge on Africa that is not Eurocentric or sensationalised but driven from internal understandings of life and prospects in Africa Dominant representations and perceptions of Africa usually depict a continent in crisis Rather than buying into external representations of Africa with its lacks and aspirations for Western modernities we insist that African scholars in particular should be in the forefront of promoting understanding of the pluri lingual overlapping and dense reality of life and developments on the continent to produce relevant and usable knowledge Continuing and renewed interest in Africa s resources including the land mass economy minerals visual arts and performance cultures as well as bio medical knowledge and products by old and new geopolitical players obliges African scholars to transcend disciplinary boundaries and to work with each other to advance knowledge and uses of those resources in the interests of Africa s people

"Pan" Africa Rising Rita Kiki Edozie, 2017-09-08 This book uses Nigeria s Afri capitalist and South Africa s Ubuntu Business models as case studies that reconcile the tension between Africa Rising and Pan African economics presenting their convergence as Africa s viable Third Way route to global development In presenting Afri capitalism and Ubuntu Business as national business sector manifestations of a new Pan Africanism the author explores Africa s culturalist path in engaging the international political economy This is an African customized engagement that parallels the alternative models of China s market socialism and Latin America s 21st C Socialism All present alternatives to realist liberal and structuralist standpoints inclining instead toward constructivist political economies derived from the perspectives and subject conditions of African economic histories socio cultures alternative modernities and agent led initiatives African Studies Review, 2008

Horman Chitonge,2015-01-09 In recent years Africa has undergone the longest period of sustained economic growth in the continent s history drawing the attention of the international media and academics alike This book analyses the Africa Rising narrative from multidisciplinary perspectives offering a critical assessment of the explanations given for the poor economic growth and development performance in Africa prior to the millennium and the dramatic shift towards the new Africa Bringing in perspectives from African intellectuals and scholars many of whom have previously been overlooked in this debate the book examines the construction of Africa s economic growth and development portraits over the years It looks at two institutions that play a vital role in African development providing a detailed explanation of how the World Bank and the IMF have interpreted and dealt with the African challenges and experiences The insightful analysis reveals that if Africa is rising only 20 30 per cent of Africans are aboard the rising ship and the main challenge facing the continent today is to bring on board the majority of Africans who have been excluded from growth This book makes the complex and sometimes confusing debates on Africa s economic growth experience more accessible to a wide range of readers interested in the Africa story It is essential reading for students and researchers in African Studies and will be of great interest to scholars in Development Studies Political Economy and Development Economics A Current Bibliography on African Affairs ,2008

established in 1993 with the intention of creating opportunities for trade and investment on both sides and the promotion of sustainable development In 2003 the conference translated Japanese aid policy to Africa into three key pillars human centered development poverty reduction through economic growth and the consolidation of peace and since 2005 Africa has on several occasions been the largest recipient of Japanese overseas aid Tracing Japanese foreign aid to Africa during and after the Cold War this book examines how the TICAD process sits at the intersection of international relations and domestic decision making Indeed it questions whether the increase in aid has been driven by domestic changes such as demands from civil society and donor interest or pressures emanating from the international system Taking Angola and Mozambique as case studies the book explores how Japan's development cooperation with Africa has assisted previously war torn states make the transition from war to peace and in doing so demonstrates the centrality of human security to Japanese foreign policy as a means of ensuring sustainable development This book will have great interdisciplinary appeal to students and scholars of Japanese and African studies Japanese politics international relations theory foreign policy economic development and sustainable development

Judicial Politics in New Democracies Peter VonDoepp, 2009 That judicial institutions are important for emerging democracies leaves little if any room for debate But to what extent do judiciaries in these new democracies maintain their autonomy And what accounts for varying levels of autonomy across states Drawing on the cases of Malawi Zambia and Namibia and offering a novel analytical framework Peter VonDoepp illuminates why power holders behave as they do toward the courts VonDoepp considers whether and why political leaders have respected or undermined judicial autonomy in each of the three cases He also addresses how the courts themselves have shaped executive judicial relations His findings present unexpected challenges for existing frameworks as well as important lessons about the factors and conditions affecting
