

Chapter 5 -- Elasticity and Its Application

On this chapter look for the answers to these questions:

- What is elasticity? What kinds of factors can elasticity help us understand?
- What is the price elasticity of demand? How is it related to the demand curve? How is it related to demand's responsiveness?
- What is the price elasticity of supply? How is it related to the supply curve?
- What are the income and cross-price elasticities of demand?

It interests:

How things respond to some phenomena

How change affects an economy, and especially, what an economy can bear.

How people are facing uncertainty that opportunity cost of your time, the value of thinking about your good or service.

How the demand curve that are seen and its elastic behavior. If you have your good, how many have interest? How much will your demand fall, or might it even increase?

Elaborate:

- Some good elasticity measures that show the various responses changes in another variable.
 - One type of elasticity measures how much demand for other variables and that is cross-price elasticity.
- Definition: The change in a variable's measure of the responsiveness of Q^D to Q^S to a unit of the independent.

Price Elasticity of Demand

- Price elasticity of demand measures how much Q^D responds to a change in P .
- Expresses the price sensitivity of demand's demand.

$$\text{Price elasticity of demand} = \frac{\text{Percentage change in } Q^D}{\text{Percentage change in } P}$$

Along a demand curve, P and Q^D move in opposite directions, which means that price elasticity is negative. Use this fact the whole year, and repeat all price elasticity calculations.

Example:

The price elasticity of demand for a good is -0.5. If the price of the good falls by 10%, the quantity demanded will increase by 5%.

Calculating Percentage Changes

Example: If the price of a good falls from $10 to $9, the percentage change in price is:

Percentage change = $\frac{\Delta P}{P} \times 100 = \frac{-1}{10} \times 100 = -10\%$

Example: If the quantity demanded of a good increases from 100 to 110, the percentage change in quantity is:

Percentage change = $\frac{\Delta Q^D}{Q^D} \times 100 = \frac{10}{100} \times 100 = 10\%$
