

Designation: A 108 – 03

Standard Specification for Steel Bar, Carbon and Alloy, Cold-Finished¹

This standard is issued under the fixed designation A 108; the number immediately following the designation indicates the year of original adoption or, in the case of revision, the year of last revision. A number in parentheses indicates the year of last reapproval. A superscript epsilon (ϵ) indicates an editorial change since the last revision or reapproval.

This standard has been approved for use by agencies of the Department of Defense.

1. Scope

1.1 This specification covers cold-finished carbon and alloy steel bars produced in straight length and coil to chemical compositions. Cold-finished bars are suitable for heat treatment, for machining into components, or for use in the as-finished condition as shafting, or in constructional applications, or for other similar purposes (Note 1). Grades of steel are identified by grade numbers or by chemical composition.

Note 1—A guide for the selection of steel bars is contained in Practice A 400.

1.2 Some end uses may require one or more of the available designations shown under Supplementary Requirements. Supplementary requirements shall apply only when specified individually by the purchaser.

1.3 The values stated in inch-pound units are to be regarded as the standard. The values given in parentheses are for information only.

An outstanding reference source for practicing designers, this thoroughly up to date guide to interior design provides a firm understanding of the products, properties, and uses of all materials. It offers a refreshing synergistic approach, stressing the importance of cooperation between interior designers and architects, and mutual understanding of each others' tools towards achieving a working and successful final project. It progresses from the ground up, literally looking beyond the more decorative aspects of design to study the properties and uses of both finishing materials in the design field and structural materials in the architectural field.

Threading a theme of environmental awareness throughout, i.e. recycling as ways to help cope with the growing landfill problems, it goes on to cover paints and finishes and how these products have changed due to laws governing toxic emissions, carpets with commercial specifications supplied by the Carpet and Rug Institute, flooring, walls, and ceilings.
