Ingenuity Gap How Can We Solve The Problems Of The Future:

The Ingenuity Gap Thomas Homer-Dixon, 2011-04-30 Is our world becoming too complex and too fast paced to manage The challenges facing human societies from international financial crises and global climate change to pandemics of tuberculosis and AIDS converge intertwine and often remain largely beyond our ken Most of us suspect that the experts don't really know what's going on and that as a species we have released forces that are neither managed nor manageable This is the ingenuity gap the term coined by Thomas Homer Dixon the critical gap between our need for practical and innovative ideas to solve complex problems and our actual supply of those ideas Homer Dixon shows us how in our complex world while poor countries are particularly vulnerable to ingenuity gaps our own rich countries are no longer immune When the gap widens political disintegration and violent upheaval can result reaching into our own economies and daily lives in subtle unforeseen ways

Privatizing Peace: From Conflict to Security Allan Gerson, Nat Colletta, 2022-06-08 Privatizing Peace From Conflict to Security pinpoints the weaknesses in the numerous peacekeeping missions of recent decades as well as the blind spots in the thinking that guided them Even more significantly they clearly demonstrate the ways in which well meaning stabilization and reconstruction programs fail to accommodate the economic and social imperatives of war torn societies But this visionary work is not merely an indictment of First World myopia in the face of Third World devastation The authors offer cogent well thought out recommendations firmly grounded in current reality with a powerful determination to avoid the repetition of past mistakes Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint

This new paperback edition includes a new introduction by the author. You will hear a vast and eclectic array of voices. Inspired by thousands of hours of conversation, Pamela has collected the evidence that living life successfully and with purpose may be simpler than it seems. While success has many definitions, she has discovered through these encounters that it's not about finding the Holy Grail of fame and fortune but rather about becoming a successful human being and finding new ways to measure your own achievements and contributions. The twentieth century was a time of runaway growth in human population, consumption, and technology, placing a colossal load on all natural systems. He demonstrates how our modern predicament is as old as civilization: a 10,000-year experiment we have participated in but seldom controlled. Only by understanding the patterns of human triumph and disaster can we recognize the experiment's inherent dangers and shape its outcome. Wright's provocative text evokes striking images across time and space, starting with Paul Gauguin's painting D'où Venons-Nous? Où Sommes-Nous? Où Allons-Nous? Where do we come from? What are we? Where are we going? Three questions that perfectly summarize the focus of his lectures. In this new edition, illuminating illustrations and sidebars complement Wright's arguments and allow readers to witness further evidence supporting his cautionary tale. pub desc Long range planning Strategic Planning Society, European Planning Federation, 2002 Confronting New Realities Juma Volter Mwapachu, 2005 In 1986, Tanzania agreed with the IMF and the World Bank to pursue robust social and economic reforms in light of the serious decline in the performance of the economy with the objective of achieving sustainable economic growth. At a political level, a multi-party system was introduced and the first multi-party elections held since 1962 took place in 1995 and again in 2005. This book examines in considerable depth the political and economic changes that have taken place in this period of reform. It highlights both the achievements and the challenges that remain, particularly those brought about by the new and dynamic phase of globalisation in areas such as trade and investment. The author articulates perspectives on the democratisation and governance trajectories the country should pursue to attain a more prosperous economic status whilst sustaining the unity, peace, and diversity that have characterised the country since independence. World Affairs Journal, 2000 Long Range Planning Society for Long Range Planning, European Planning Federation, 1968 Developing Leadership Martin Coles, Geoff Southworth, 2005 Containing
