

Advanced Placement English IV
Literature and Composition
Mr. Diamond
2009-2010

The Advanced Placement Literature and Composition course is designed to develop students' abilities as a close reader, critical thinker, and well organized writer by offering them a college-level course during their senior year of high school.

Course Description: In this course, students will learn to read and comprehend some of the finest poetry, plays, novels, short stories and essays written at various times and in various cultures. This course emphasizes discovery of the meaning in literature through attention to diction, imagery, syntax, characterization, etc. and the various techniques and strategies authors use to evoke emotional responses from readers. Students are expected to justify their interpretations by reference to details and patterns found in the text.

AP English is both demanding and intellectually stimulating. It requires your best effort consistently and emphasizes your development of thought and mature habits of critical thinking. Classroom discussion and active participation are vital. Written assignments, both short and long term, will be an important and frequent feature of the course. You are expected to work with considerable independence at home and to contribute frequently to small groups and class discussions.

The ultimate goal for this class is to prepare the student for the AP English Literature and Composition exam. All of the work that is done in the class is directly related to the exam. I want every student in this class to have an excellent opportunity to score a 3 or higher on the AP test.

IN ADVANCED PLACEMENT LITERATURE AND COMPOSITION, STUDENTS WILL...

- Write and revise compositions in response to interpretive exercises to explicate given literary selections
- Write and revise critical essays that explicate poetry, including consideration of structure and style as they reflect content
- Explicate, in discussion or critical essay, short prose narratives, selected novels, and plays
- Write and/or present orally critical analysis or persuasive selections
- Examine, in discussion or essay, the logic, language, syntax, structure, and tone of prose and poetry selections as those elements combine to produce an effect on the reader
- Write documented evaluative and expository essays on topics relating to literature
- Sharpen skills in close reading by perceiving patterns of language such as motifs, symbols, images and metaphors as well as the effect of tone and the contributions to poetry of sounds and metrical devices
