Akiladevi, 2025-12-18 This Text Book of Advance Pharmacology I provides a comprehensive foundation in modern pharmacology by integrating fundamental principles with system wise therapeutic applications. It begins with pharmacokinetics explaining in detail how drugs are absorbed from various routes distributed into different body compartments biotransformed mainly by hepatic enzymes and finally eliminated through renal and non renal pathways. The concepts of linear and non linear compartment models are introduced to quantitatively describe drug disposition and the clinical significance of protein binding is emphasized in relation to drug distribution free drug concentration and potential interactions. The section on pharmacodynamics clarifies how drugs act at molecular targets especially receptors and how the relationship between drug concentration and effect governs potency, efficacy and safety. It describes the structural features of receptors their functional families such as ion channel linked G protein coupled enzyme linked and nuclear receptors and presents quantitative aspects of drug receptor interaction and drug elicited effects. A dedicated unit on neurotransmission explains the general aspects and sequential steps of synaptic transmission covering synthesis storage release receptor activation and inactivation of neurotransmitters. Neurohumoral transmission in the autonomic nervous system is discussed with special focus on acetylcholine and adrenaline while central neurotransmission includes detailed study of histamine, serotonin, dopamine, GABA, glutamate and glycine along with concepts of non adrenergic non cholinergic (NANC) transmission and co transmission. Systemic pharmacology sections link pathophysiology with pharmacology of parasympathomimetics, parasympatholytics, sympathomimetics, sympatholytics and agents acting at the neuromuscular junction highlighting both therapeutic uses and toxicological aspects. Central nervous system Pharmacology I deals with the organization of the CNS and the pharmacology of general and local anaesthetics as well as sedatives and hypnotics explaining their mechanisms of action, clinical indications and adverse effects.
