2014 June Question Papers Grade 10:

Global Economic Prospects, Volume 9, June 2014 World Bank World Bank, 2014-06-10 The global economy got off to a bumpy start this year but growth in 2015 and 2016 looks to be broadly on track Projections for developing countries in 2014 have been down downgraded by 0.5 percentage points to 4.8 percent mainly reflecting weak first quarter growth in the US due to weather and the conflict in Ukraine Going forward growth is projected to firm to 5.3 and 5.5 percent in 2015 and 2016 supported by easy global financial conditions and rebounding exports as high income countries continue to recover under the influence of a reduced drag from fiscal consolidation and improving labor markets Financial conditions will eventually tighten and when they do there is risk of further volatility Most developing countries are in good fiscal and financial shape but where vulnerabilities remain countries need to tighten policy to reduce the potential impact of external shocks Overall growth for developing countries will be solid but not strong enough to generate the income and employment gains needed to eliminate poverty by 2013 As a result countries need to focus on structural reform in order to lift growth in an enduring and sustainable manner

Jake Oresick,2017-04-14 The Schenley Experiment is the story of Pittsburgh's first public high school a social incubator in a largely segregated city that was highly even improbably successful throughout its 156 year existence Established in 1855 as Central High School and reorganized in 1916 Schenley High School was a model of innovative public education and an ongoing experiment in diversity Its graduates include Andy Warhol actor Bill Nunn and jazz virtuoso Earl Hines and its prestigious academic program and pensions lured such teachers as future Pulitzer Prize winner Willa Cather The subject of investment as well as destructive neglect the school reflects the history of the city of Pittsburgh and provides a study in both the best and worst of urban public education practices there and across the Rust Belt Integrated decades before Brown v Board of Education Schenley succumbed to default segregation during the white flight of the 1970s it rose again to prominence in the late 1980s when parents camped out in six day long lines to enroll their children in visionary superintendent Richard C Wallace's reinvigorated school. Although the historic triangular building was a cornerstone of its North Oakland neighborhood and a showpiece for the city of Pittsburgh officials closed the school in 2008 citing over 50 million in necessary renovations a controversial event that captured national attention. Schenley alumnus Jake Oresick tells this story through interviews historical documents and hundreds of first person accounts drawn from a community indelibly tied to the school. A memorable important work of local and educational history his book is a case study of desegregation magnet education and the changing nature and legacies of America's oldest public schools. Daily Commercial Bulletin
