Dual-use life science research and biosecurity in the 21st Century: Social, Technical, Policy, and Ethical Challenges Jonathan E. Suk, Kathleen M. Vogel, Amanda Jane Ozin, 2015-06-04 In September 2011 scientists announced new experimental findings that would not only threaten the conduct and publication of influenza research but would have significant policy and intelligence implications The findings presented a modified variant of the H5N1 avian influenza virus hereafter referred to as the H5N1 virus that was transmissible via aerosol between ferrets These results suggested a worrisome possibility the existence of a new airborne and highly lethal H5N1 virus that could cause a deadly global pandemic In response a series of international discussions on the nature of dual use life science arose These discussions addressed the complex social technical political security and ethical issues related to dual use research This Research Topic will be devoted to contributions that explore this matrix of issues from a variety of case study and international perspectives Data and Text Processing for Health and Life Sciences Francisco M. Couto, 2019-06-10 This open access book is a step by step introduction on how shell scripting can help solve many of the data processing tasks that Health and Life specialists face everyday with minimal software dependencies The examples presented in the book show how simple command line tools can be used and combined to retrieve data and text from web resources to filter and mine literature and to explore the semantics encoded in biomedical ontologies To store data this book relies on open standard text file formats such as TSV CSV XML and OWL that can be open by any text editor or spreadsheet application The first two chapters Introduction and Resources provide a brief introduction to the shell scripting and describe popular data resources in Health and Life Sciences The third chapter Data Retrieval starts by introducing a common data processing task that involves multiple data resources Then this chapter explains how to automate each step of that task by introducing the required commands line tools one by one The fourth chapter Text Processing shows how to filter and analyze text by using simple string matching techniques and regular expressions The last chapter Semantic Processing shows how XPath queries and shell scripting is able to process complex data such as the graphs used to specify ontologies Besides being almost immutable for more than four decades and being available in most of our personal computers shell scripting is relatively easy to learn by Health and Life specialists as a sequence of independent commands Comprehending them is like conducting a new laboratory protocol by testing and understanding its procedural steps and variables and combining their intermediate results Thus this book is particularly relevant to Health and Life specialists or students that want to easily learn how to process data and text and which in return may facilitate and inspire them to acquire deeper bioinformatics skills in the future Genetically engineered products: Preparing for the future Patricia Machado Bueno Fernandes, Deise Maria Fontana Capalbo, Carmen Vicien, 2022-12-26

Advances in Green Science, Engineering and Built Environment Md Azree Othuman Mydin,2015-03-30 Selected peer reviewed papers from the International Conference on Science Engineering and Built Environments ICSEBS 2014 November 24 27 2014 Bali Indonesia Paper ,1969 Big science Great Britain: National Audit Office,2007-01-24 Government invests in a range of large scientific facilities to support and develop the nation s science base The main components of planning for these facilities are a road map describing large facilities which UK scientists are likely to need in the next 10 to 15 years and a central fund the Large Facilities Capital Fund of around 100 million per year to support investments in such facilities by Research Councils Currently 830 million has been earmarked to 15 projects which are expected to cost the UK taxpayer some 1 2 billion to build Ten of these projects have now been approved one of which has been delivered with the others due for completion in the period to 2011 The report says it is too early to assess the value for money of the science facilities To date performance against capital budgets suggests some good budget management but the latest figures show that across the ten projects underway total capital expenditure is forecast to exceed approved budgets by 6 per cent Some projects are forecasting delivery dates some 12 months or more later than approved The forecast operating costs of some projects have increased by large amounts compared to estimates when their business cases were approved and the Research Councils need to do more work to estimate the likely ongoing costs of new facilities The report says ultimately the value of the facilities will depend on the scientific discoveries they make It also says that more work is needed by Research Councils to examine the potential impact of new facilities on the future demand for research funding Full use of these facilities will depend on research ideas competing successfully for research funding
