Post-Vietnam Dioxin Exposure in Agent Orange-Contaminated C-123 Aircraft Institute of Medicine, Board on the Health of Select Populations, Committee to Evaluate the Potential Exposure to Agent Orange/TCDD Residue and Level of Risk of Adverse Health Effects for Aircrew of Post-Vietnam C-123 Aircraft, 2015-05-20 From 1972 to 1982 approximately 1 500 2 100 US Air Force Reserve personnel trained and worked on C 123 aircraft that had formerly been used to spray herbicides in Vietnam as part of Operation Ranch Hand After becoming aware that some of the aircraft on which they had worked had previously served this purpose some of these AF Reservists applied to the US Department of Veterans Affairs VA for compensatory coverage under the Agent Orange Act of 1991 The Act provides health care and disability coverage for health conditions that have been deemed presumptively service related for herbicide exposure during the Vietnam War The VA denied the applications on the basis that these veterans were ineligible because as non Vietnam era veterans or as Vietnam era veterans without boots on the ground service in Vietnam they were not covered However with the knowledge that some air and wipe samples taken between 1979 and 2009 from some of the C 123s used in Operation Ranch Hand showed the presence of agent orange residues representatives of the C 123 Veterans Association began a concerted effort to reverse VA's position and obtain coverage At the request of the VA Post Vietnam Dioxin Exposure in Agent Orange Contaminated C 123 Aircraft evaluates whether or not service in these C 123s could have plausibly resulted in exposures detrimental to the health of these Air Force Reservists The Institute of Medicine assembled an expert committee to address this question qualitatively but in a scientific and evidence based fashion This report evaluates the reliability of the available information for establishing exposure and addresses and places in context whether any documented residues represent potentially harmful exposure by characterizing the amounts available and the degree to which absorption might be expected Post Vietnam Dioxin Exposure rejects the idea that the dioxin residues detected on interior surfaces of the C 123s were immobile and effectively inaccessible to the Reservists as a source of exposure Accordingly this report states with confidence that the Air Force Reservists were exposed when working in the Operation Ranch Hand C 123s and so experienced some increase in their risk of a variety of adverse responses

European VAT Law as Interpreted

by the Court of Justice Erik Stessens, 2022-11-22 Value added tax VAT is often considered the most important development in tax of the past century. Although generally successful, it can account for a large proportion of state revenue, it has spawned its own set of complex problems that require a corresponding set of legal skills to resolve. This book, by systematically drawing out the rules from a thorough analysis of the VAT Directive and as good as every VAT case ever decided by the Court of Justice of the European Union CJEU 850 in all, is the ideal day to day guide to European VAT law. The rules and their applications for such VAT matters as the following are clearly described with examples: distinction between supplies of goods and services for VAT purposes; bundled supplies intra Community acquisitions; when tax liability starts and ends; place of supply rules and their exceptions; exemptions in the real estate, finance and insurance sectors; import and export exemptions; right to deduct VAT; abuse of rights; the problem of incorrect invoices; refund of VAT and special schemes. An extensive keyword register facilitates navigating the book. Developed from the author's daily practice as a tax counsel, this book will be of immeasurable value to tax consultants, lawyers, in house counsel, tax authority officials and taxation academics not only in Europe but beyond. Double (Non-)Taxation and EU Law Christoph Marchgraber, 2016-04-24 Everywhere new tax rules are under development to engage with the ever increasing complexity and sophistication of aggressive tax planning and to reverse the tax base erosion it leads to. The most prominent initiative in this context is the Base Erosion and Profit Shifting BEPS project of the OECD. Although double non taxation is among the main issues the BEPS project intends to address, this book shows that this phenomenon has not yet been fully understood. Focusing on the fundamental freedoms and the State aid rules of the EU, this book thoroughly explains the nature of double non taxation from an EU law perspective, its relation to double taxation and the impact of EU law on these phenomena. Among the issues dealt with in the course of the analysis are the following: locating the gaps and inconsistencies among domestic tax systems exploited by taxpayers; hybrid mismatch arrangements as a prime example of double non taxation; political efforts undertaken within the EU in order to address double taxation and double non taxation; double non taxation in the European VAT system; the convergence of the fundamental freedoms and the State aid rules; the ECJ's dilemma with regard to juridical double taxation; the deviating approach with regard to economic double taxation; the potential impact of the ECJ's case law on the EU law compatibility of double non taxation. The tax jurisprudence of the ECJ is referred to and comprehensively analysed throughout this whole book. A final chapter provides an outlook on possible developments in the future. By providing the first in depth analysis of EU law's impact on double non taxation and the double taxation relief standards with which it is intimately related, this book takes a giant step towards greater legal certainty in this challenging area of tax law. It will quickly take its place as a major practical analysis which benefits tax authorities, scholars and tax practitioners across Europe and even beyond.
