Singing through Struggle Carolynne Hitter Brown,2025-04-21 Singing

through Struggle Music Worship and Identity in Postemancipation Black Churches offers an innovative look at the vital role music and worship played in nurturing Black citizenship and identity during the Reconstruction era In such border cities as Baltimore Washington DC and Philadelphia the church was where newly emancipated migrants and members of the free Black community merged identities priorities and experiences through a process of cultural negotiation Music as a sign of Black achievement and as a genuine expression of identity produced both bastions and battlegrounds in the fight for democracy The music of Black churchgoers singing together in sanctuaries as well as in homes schools and outdoors expressed resistance to uplift ideologies within and to white supremacy without Even while using hymns and music of the European sacred tradition members infused the songs they chose with new meanings relevant to their evolving concerns and situations Drawing on fresh archival sources Singing through Struggle sheds light on the unexplored gap in the study of African American religious music between slavery and the Great Migration demonstrating the continuous stream of Black creativity and dignity that existed in religious music making between gospel music and the spirituals This close up investigation of three Black congregations draws out previously forgotten stories of men and women who understood church music as key to shaping a collective purpose and civic identity Their stories demonstrate how faith music and ritual gave the Black community means for exploring a deeply complex and ever changing reality

Sowing Stories Deep in the Soul Joyce Elaine Gill Johnson,2017-12-07 Some adolescent women struggle to maintain positive self identity resilience and personalized faith development on their journey toward adulthood It is a contemporary crisis recognized by many including ministry leaders of faith communities In today s fast paced digital culture concerns addressing challenges facing adolescent women are evident in research literature To strengthen their spiritual well being emphasis is placed on spiritual formation practices that enhance faith hope and personal relationships amid social peer and media pressures pulling them into negative detrimental and dysfunctional lifestyles Empirical research reveals a need to transform negative images and self destruction utilizing stories of holistic well being Sowing Stories Deep in the Soul Biblical Storytelling with Adolescent Women highlights biblical women touched by the holistic healing ministry of Jesus with deep soul stirring experiences of God's compassionate love. It meets the need as a spiritual formation ministry model focused on creativity, engaging study, internalized story learning, positive life connections and performing biblical stories by heart. These expressive aspects form the ancient oral character of Bible stories internalized and voiced in repeated performances for compelling impact and action. Included are replicable results of action research using this model with adolescent women to encourage maintaining Christ centered lives.

Sermons on the International Sunday-school

Lessons for 1876-19 Monday Club (Boston), 1880 Embassy of Onesimus Allen Dwight Callahan, 1997-05-01 Virtually all modern commentaries on Philemon agree with the interpretation from late antiquity that the letter treats the case of Onesimus a pilfering runaway slave who Paul is attempting to rehabilitate in the eyes of Philemon his rightfully angry master. In this commentary however Allen Callahan tells another story. His reading of the rhetorical situation and reconstruction of the historical context provides a new narrative for the letter. His interpretation for which he argues is that of several nineteenth century American abolitionist interpreters. Here then is not the story of a runaway slave but a story of the estrangement of two Christina brothers Onesimus and Philemon. Professor Callahan proposes that his alternative reading of the letter offers a paradigm for Christian reconciliation that necessarily includes diplomacy, persuasion, forbearance and reparations for injured parties. In other words the letter speaks of the challenging implications of Christian love and the imperative of Christian justice. If there is an interpretation of great moment to be offered for this otherwise unremarkable piece of correspondence then the treatment of these themes holds the promise of such an interpretation. Allen Dwight Callahan teaches New Testament at Harvard Divinity School.

William Jacob Walls, Bp. William Jacob Walls, 1974 Yea, Lord! Moving with the Spirit Mozella Mitchell, 2020-02-10 This is a searching, perceptive examination of the fifty years of Dr Mitchell's service as preacher in the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church ministry and a scholar in the church and university. How she was led into this dual profession, how she survived in it as a Black woman, how social movements and changes in the society impacted her life and ambitions, and most of all, how God was always working in her life over more than eight decades, guiding, directing, sustaining her and enabling her to achieve His purposes for her life, thereby getting the glory out of her life for the good of her family, others, friends and the church and society. She accepted her role as a divine instrument and only God could have enabled her to adjust and readjust to the rapid changes taking place from one decade to another in the Civil Rights Movement, the Black Power Movement, the Women's Rights Movement, the Black Womanist Movement.

Lawrence Township Kathleen M. Middleton, 1994-12-01 Since the development of photography in the mid nineteenth century the camera has been used as a tool of both discovery and preservation. Photographs bring alive our picture of the past and can open a floodgate of memories and nostalgia or inspire curiosity and a sense of history. Collected in this delightful visual history are over 200 photographs which bring to life the rich and diverse history of Lawrence Township, New Jersey from the Victorian era to the Great Depression. Some of the best and most telling images are those which simply give us a picture of how things used to be which seem to have frozen for posterity a moment of a certain way of life which has long since disappeared. In this exploration of daily life throughout Lawrence Township we see a barge landing at Port Mercer, a blacksmith shoeing a horse in Slackwood, people from all walks of life at work and play. In the faces of these people we can see how a strong community spirit helped Lawrentians to adapt to the changes of the twentieth century.
