A Case of Exploding Mangoes Mohammed Hanif, 2008-05-06 A Washington Post Rocky Mountain News Boston Globe Best Book of the Year Intrigue and subterfuge combine with bad luck and good in this darkly comic debut about love betrayal tyranny family and a conspiracy trying its damndest to happen Ali Shigri Pakistan Air Force pilot and Silent Drill Commander of the Fury Squadron is on a mission to avenge his father's suspicious death which the government calls a suicide Ali's target is none other than General Zia ul Haq dictator of Pakistani Enlisting a rag tag group of conspirators including his cologne bathed roommate a hash smoking American lieutenant and a mango besotted crew Ali sets his elaborate plan in motion There's only one problem the line of would be Zia assassins is longer than he could have possibly known

A Case of Exploding Mangoes Mohammed Hanif, 2010-09-30 LONGLISTED FOR THE BOOKER PRIZE Exuberant and satirical this is an angry comedy about Zia's brutal legacy to Pakistan Observer There is an old saying that when lovers fall out a plane goes down This is the story of one such plane Why did a Hercules C130 the world's sturdiest plane carrying Pakistan's military dictator General Zia ul Haq go down on 17 August 1988 Was it because of 1 Mechanical failure 2 Human error 3 The CIA's impatience 4 A blind woman's curse 5 Generals not happy with their pension plans 6 The mango season Or could it be your narrator Ali Shigri A Case of Exploding Mangoes is sharp dark inventive and utterly gripping

Outlook, 2008-06-17 Outlook, 2008-06-17 Cultures in Movement Martine Raibaud, Ionut Untea, Micéala Symington, 2015-02-05 The contributors to this volume encourage a rethinking of the very notion of culture by examining the experiences situations and the representations of those who chose or were forced to change cultures from the nineteenth century to the present day Beyond a simple study of migration forced or otherwise this collective work also re-examines the model of integration As recent entrants into new social settings may be perceived as affecting the previously accepted social equilibrium mechanisms encouraging or inhibiting population flows are sometimes put in place From this perspective integration may become less a matter of internal choice than an external obligation imposed by the dominant political power in which case integration may only be a euphemism for cultural uniformity The strategies of cultural survival developed as a reaction to such a rising tide of cultural uniformity can be seen as necessary points of departure for an ever growing shared multiculturalism A long term voluntary commitment to make cultural boundaries more flexible and allow a more engaged individual participation in the process of defining the self and finding its place within a culture in movement may represent a key element for cultural cohesion in a globalized world

The Muslim quest between integration and provocation in contemporary Canadian writing. A close analysis of Rawi Hage's "Cockroach" Matthias Dickert, 2017-03-16 Document from the year 2017 in the subject Didactics for the subject English

Literature Works Comenius University in Bratislava language English abstract This essay is about Rawi Hage's novel Cockroach which at first sight is according to the Daily Telegraph A tale of murder intrigue and sex from the exuberantly talented Hage However Cockroach embodies more than this negative one sighted approach It is also a novel of migration exile diaspora and being unwanted because of being a foreigner of migrant background and Hage like Rushdie explores the hinterland between fantasy trauma and realism The unnamed narrator of the novel takes the reader by the hand and exposes this immigrant life in a chilly surrounding Chilly because people are cold and chilly because the climate is cold too The fact that Hage as a Lebanese born person uses a Canadian setting as the place of action already hints at two conditions of contemporary Muslim writing in general This refers to the autobiographical basis which many novels have and the use of the city as the background of the narration two presuppositions of Muslim writing since Rushdie and Kureishi Hage in Cockroach explores Montreal and presents it as an alien and hostile topography of menial jobs hidden or open xenophobia a mix of foreigners insect behaviours and class hostilities This narrator an exotic foreigner himself despises the world around him and takes the reader through a nightmare of Canadian reality on the basis of his violent childhood the death of his sister his exile situation and the helplessness of Canada which fails in the person of a court mandated psychiatrist His traumatic past and his inability as a man to protect the female members of his family are also symbols for a failed integration and the personal crisis of the narrator who seeks to find identity and a life at the border of physical and psychological death Red Birds

Mohammed Hanif, 2019-09-05 A GUARDIAN BOOK OF THE YEAR A thrilling razor sharp critique of US foreign policy Red Birds is an incisive unsparing critique of war and of America's role in the destruction of the Middle East It combines modern and ancient farcical traditions in a thrilling way Guardian _____ American pilot Major Ellie has crashed his plane in the middle of a desert Lucky for him there's room for him at the very refugee camp he was supposed to bomb Teenage Momo doesn't see it that way the camp is a trap not a refuge His brother's missing his parents are in a rage and an aid worker won't stop trying to interview him for her book on the Teenage Muslim Mind Savage irreverent and deliciously dark Red Birds is a masterful unravelling of intertwined fates in a forgotten war scape and a brilliant satire about the absurdity of war and the impossibility of peace Funny dark compassionate and angry Daily Telegraph The funniest tragedy I've read in years Hanif Kureishi A blistering savage tragicomic satire about the cruelty of war and the impossibility of peace The Times

The Herald, 2012 At Freedom's Limit Sadia Abbas, 2014-05-26 The subject of this book is a new Islam This Islam began to take shape in 1988 around the Rushdie affair the collapse of the Berlin Wall in 1989 and the first Gulf War of 1991 It was consolidated in the period following September 11 2001 It is a name a discursive site a signifier at once flexible and constrained indeed it is a geopolitical agon in and around which some of the most pressing aporias of modernity enlightenment liberalism and reformation are worked out At this discursive site are many metonyms for Islam the veiled or pious Muslim woman the militant the minority Muslim injured by Western free speech Each of these figures functions as a cipher enabling repeated encounters with the question How do we free ourselves from freedom Again and again freedom is imagined as Western modern imperial a dark imposition of Enlightenment The pious and injured Muslim who desires his or her own enslavement is imagined as freedom's other At Freedom's Limit is an intervention into current debates regarding religion secularism and Islam and provides a deep critique of the anthropology and sociology of Islam that have consolidated this formation It shows that even as this Islam gains increasing traction in cultural production from television shows to movies to novels the most intricate contestations of Islam so construed are to be found in the work of Muslim writers and painters This book includes extended readings of jihadist proclamations postcolonial law responses to law from minorities in Muslim majority societies Islamophobic films the novels of Leila Aboulela Mohammed Hanif and Nadeem Aslam and the paintings of Komail Aijazuddin     Rethinking Identities in Contemporary Pakistani Fiction A. Kanwal,2015-03-09 This book focuses on the way that notions of home and identity have changed for Muslims as a result of international war on terror rhetoric It uniquely links the post 9 11 stereotyping of Muslims and Islam in the West to the roots of current jihadism and the resurgence of ethnocentrism within the subcontinent and beyond     Routledge Companion to Pakistani Anglophone Writing Aroosa Kanwal,Saiyma Aslam,2018-10-10 The Routledge Companion to Pakistani Anglophone Writing forms a theoretical comprehensive and critically astute overview of the history and future of Pakistani literature in English Dealing with key issues for global society today from terrorism religious extremism fundamentalism corruption and intolerance to matters of love hate loss belongingness and identity conflicts this Companion brings together over thirty essays by leading and emerging scholars and presents the transformations and continuities in Pakistani anglophone writing since its inauguration in 1947 to today contestations and controversies that have not only informed creative writing but also subverted certain stereotypes in favour of a dynamic representation of Pakistani Muslim experiences a case for a Pakistani canon through a critical perspective on how different writers and their works have at different times both consciously and unconsciously helped to realise and extend a uniquely Pakistani idiom Providing a comprehensive yet manageable introduction to cross cultural relations and to historical regional local and global contexts that are essential to reading Pakistani anglophone literature The Routledge Companion to Pakistani Anglophone Writing is key reading for researchers and academics in Pakistani anglophone literature history and culture It is also relevant to other disciplines such as terror studies post 9 11 literature gender studies postcolonial studies feminist studies human rights diaspora studies space and mobility studies religion and contemporary South Asian literatures and cultures     Commonwealth Yearbook Nexus Strategic Publishers,2015-09-15 The Commonwealth Yearbook is the flagship annual publication of the Commonwealth Secretariat with this special anniversary edition celebrating the Secretariat's 50th year Published annually the Yearbook is the essential reference guide to the countries organisations activities and values of the modern Commonwealth This special 2015 anniversary edition has been fully updated to include Strategic directions of the association as it prepares for the

A Critical Approach Matthias Dickert, 2015-09-17 Scientific Essay from the year 2015 in the subject Literature Asia Comenius University in Bratislava language English abstract This book is an introduction into female Pakistani Fiction It starts with some sort of background information on the catchphrase Pakistani Fiction in order to place the female aspect into its literary background A second step lies in a description of the position of this literary concept within Postcolonial Writing which is marked and shaped by so many different cultural and religious elements The short analysis of two selected novels Ice Candy Man 1991 by Bapsi Sidhwa and Brick Lane 2003 by Monica Ali should help to show how female Pakistani writers deal with female matters This literary reflection will be supported by three parameters which can be found in many novels dealing with this subject The talk is about gender diaspora and globalization all of which are used to portray female characters The end will consist of some sort of outlook where Pakistani Fiction stands at the moment and where its trends might go to Female Muslim Existence in the West. Failure or Emancipation Matthias Dickert, 2016-09-20 Scientific Essay from the year 2016 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature language English abstract Monica Ali's novel Brick Lane published in 2003 marked her literary breakthrough as a female Muslim writer of the second generation She like many of her male predecessors such as Hanif Kureishi or Salman Rushdie chose London as the literary region to reflect matters like migration immigration assimilation cultural and religious backgrounds which she linked to classical matters of female writing such as emancipation One of the results from this was not only an insight into the Bengali community of the Tower Hamlets or the role of Muslim women in general but a double vision of Muslim and Western life in Great Britain The choice to focus on the Greater London Area also helped to concentrate on the new approach by Muslim writers of the second generation to work with the former notion of the postcolonial city in a new way while presenting London as a multicultural place This decision at present is accompanied by the second choice of these writers to also include former British colonies in order to better reflect the double background of their main characters Kia Abdullah like Ali also stems from the large Bengali community of the Tower Hamlets in London and it was no surprise that the presentation of her main female character Kieran Ali also provoked criticism and protest from her own community Her novel Life Love and Assimilation 2006 must however be seen as the more provocative novel since her main character chooses and lives emancipation in a more radical way This option is simply possible because Kieran unlike Nazneen the main character of Brick Lane belongs to the generation of Muslim girls and teenagers who were born and raised in Great Britain Both books can therefore be linked in the sense that they seem to start a discussion of female Muslim emancipation of immigrants Nazneen and girls being born and raised in the British Muslim community which still produces cultural and religious pressure on women To write about this and to show the role of women under Islam is of course provocative but this provocation is honest and necessary to discuss the present status of Muslim women in general The fact that both novels are based on an autobiographical background makes them even more convincing It does however also show that both sides East and West still have a long way to go to tear down traditional religious concepts which still consider the female to being inferior to the male National and individual Muslim Trauma. The collision of Islam and American neocapitalist thinking in Nadeem Aslams "The Blind Man's Garden" Matthias Dickert, 2020-02-28 Scientific Essay from the year 2020 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature Comenius University in Bratislava language English abstract South Asian literature is a literary term closely connected to countries like India Pakistan Sri Lanka Nepal Bhutan the Maldives or Bangladesh Afghanistan here holds an outside position because of the fact that Afghan writers at home face an extremely difficult situation So it is mostly the exile position from which they write about their country Afghanistan nevertheless is often picked by migrant writers as a setting of their novels because it is ideal to reflect the 9 11 development for both character development or plot It is therefore logical that this country is not only a neglected part of South Asian literature it is also hardly mentioned by critics It is simply speaking difficult to label Afghan writing as colonial or neo colonial writing Many Muslim writers sometimes make use of female characters as being central parts for the narrative it is interesting to note that the female presentation plays a marginal role in history making or in the sense of ordering and interpreting past and present thus theorizing matters in general However growing female issues in many novels such as oppression prostitution rape domestic violence or birth control slowly seem to change the traditional female role as being inferior to man This present trend is not only seen by feminist anthropologists Western radical feminists or gender studies but also more and more by writers from both sexes Thus matters like patriarchy culture class religion or nation are newly discussed making South Asian Literature an extremely energetic field of contemporary migrant writing They fulfill that what other critics see in three areas while reading postcolonial contexts The first area they reflect is reading texts produced by writers from countries with a history of colonies The second element they discuss lies in the fact they write texts produced by those that have migrated from countries with a history of colonialism or those descended from migrant families And the last area they cover lies in the fact that they are re reading texts produced during colonialism addressing the imperial experience or not So one can conclude from this that South Asian literature has become not only one important element of Postcolonial writing it also includes many political aspects which are of importance for this essay     The Believer ,2009

A Case Of Exploding Mangoes: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have captivated audiences this year. A Case Of Exploding Mangoes : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This heartfelt tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. A Case Of Exploding Mangoes : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
