Copyright Office,1971      In the Light of the Angels Susanna Barsella,2010 As the first organic study on angelic operations in the Divine Comedy this book puts Dante s angelology within the XIII century theological and philosophical debate on the nature and functions of separate substances Highlighting the original fusion of classical and patristic traditions within the providential outline of the poem it argues the centrality of angels in the Comedy s ethical cosmological system and narrative strategy opening new interpretations of figures such as the Heavenly Messenger the Purgatory angels and Beatrice      The Americans at Home David Macrae,1870      The Broadview Anthology of Medieval Drama Christina M. Fitzgerald,John T. Sebastian,2012-12-05 The past generation has been an extraordinarily active one in medieval drama scholarship our appreciation of the range of medieval drama has been significantly broadened and our understanding of certain medieval genres most notably biblical drama has been fundamentally altered The Broadview Anthology of British Literature has been widely praised for the degree to which it has taken this scholarship into account in its selection of and presentation of medieval plays Now Broadview launches a new anthology that takes those plays as its base while expanding very substantially beyond them to represent the full range of drama in English and where strong connections exist in French Latin Cornish and Welsh as well through to 1576 In all over forty plays are included Each work has been fully annotated and is prefaced by a substantial introduction In many cases the language is to some extent modernized in order to make the plays more accessible to readers today      Notes and Queries: a Medium of Inter-communication for Literary Men, Artists, Antiquaries, Genealogists, Etc ,1870

Heavenly Space in Hebrews and Its Jewish and Christian Environment Stephen C. Wunrow,2025-06-12 Stephen Wunrow addresses the pressing question of what the author of Hebrews meant by his descriptions of heaven arguing that the author intended his references to heavenly space to be interpreted as realistic descriptions of a real place Wunrow posits that language about heaven is neither metaphor nor a description of a place outside the creation by examining other early Jewish and Christian texts that narrate or describe humans ascending into heaven Given the nature and the function of heavenly space as described in these texts Wunrow suggests it is most probable that the authors of the texts intended their descriptions of heavenly space to be understood as realistic Wunrow thus explores 1 and 2 Enoch 4 Ezra 2 and 3 Baruch the Apocalypse of Abraham the Testament of Levi the Testament of Abraham the Ascension of Isaiah and Revelation investigating how other roughly contemporary authors described heavenly space and considering that the rhetorical aims of most of these authors fail unless their readers understand their descriptions of heavenly space in realistic ways Turning then to examine Hebrews Wunrow suggests that while the letter does contain unique features and rhetorical aims it also fits comfortably with other early Jewish and Christian texts that describe humans ascending into heaven in a realistic manner He concludes with reflections on how this conclusion helps to clarify other topics in Hebrews including atonement and eschatology
