Angry Black White Boy, Or, The Miscegenation of Macon Detornay Adam Mansbach, 2005 From the critically acclaimed author of Shackling Water comes an incendiary and ruthlessly funny novel about violence pop culture and identity in 21st century America

Angry Black White Boy Adam Mansbach, 2007-12-18 From the acclaimed author of Shackling Water comes the first great race novel of the twenty first century an incendiary and ruthlessly funny satire about violence pop culture and American identity Macon Detornay is a suburban white boy possessed and politicized by black culture and filled with rage toward white America After moving to New York City for college Macon begins robbing white passengers in his taxicab setting off a manhunt for the black man presumed to be committing the crimes When his true identity is revealed Macon finds himself to be a celebrity and makes use of the spotlight to hold forth on the evils and invisibility of whiteness Soon he launches the Race Traitor Project a stress addled collective that attracts guilty liberals wannabe gangstas and bandwagon riders from all over the country to participate in a Day of Apology a day set aside for white people to make amends for four hundred years of oppression The Day of Apology pushes New York City over the edge into an epic riot forcing Macon to confront the depth of his own commitment to the struggle Peopled with all manner of race pimps and players Angry Black White Boy is a stunning breakout book from a critically acclaimed young writer and should be required reading for anyone who wants to get under the skin of the complexities of identity in America

Post-Soul Satire Derek C. Maus, James J. Donahue, 2014-07-07 From 30 Americans to Angry White Boy from Bamboozled to The Boondocks from Chappelle's Show to The Colored Museum this collection of twenty one essays takes an interdisciplinary look at the flowering of satire and its influence in defining new roles in black identity As a mode of expression for a generation of writers comedians cartoonists musicians filmmakers and visual conceptual artists satire enables collective questioning of many of the fundamental presumptions about black identity in the wake of the civil rights movement Whether taking place in popular and controversial television shows in a provocative series of short internet films in prize winning novels and plays in comic strips or in conceptual hip hop albums this satirical impulse has found a receptive audience both within and outside the black community Such works have been variously called post black post soul and examples of a New Black Aesthetic Whatever the label this collection bears witness to a noteworthy shift regarding the ways in which African American satirists feel constrained by conventional obligations when treating issues of racial identity historical memory and material representation of blackness Among the artists examined in this collection are Paul Beatty Dave Chappelle Trey Ellis Percival Everett Donald Glover a.k.a. Childish Gambino Spike Lee Aaron McGruder Lynn Nottage ZZ Packer Suzan Lori Parks Mickalene Thomas Tour Kara Walker and George C Wolfe The essays intentionally seek out interconnections among various forms of artistic expression Contributors look at the ways in which contemporary African American satire engages in a broad ranging critique that exposes fraudulent outdated absurd or otherwise damaging mindsets and behaviors both within and outside the African American community Abolishing White Masculinity from Mark Twain to Hip-hop Stephany Rose, 2014-03-25 Abolishing White Masculinity from Mark Twain to Hip-hop examines white American male literature for its social commentary on the construction of whiteness in the United States. Whiteness has always been a contested racial identity in the U.S. in a state of construction and reconstruction throughout critical cultural and historical moments. This text examines how white American male writers have grappled with understanding themselves and their audiences as white beings. Abolishing White Masculinity from Mark Twain to Hip-hop specifically brings a critical whiteness approach to American literary criticism and strengthens the growing interdisciplinary field of critical whiteness studies in the humanities. Critical whiteness studies shifts the attention from solely examining people and perspectives of color in race discourse to addressing whiteness as an essential component of race ideology. The primary contribution of this perspective is in how whites construct and see whiteness for the larger purpose of exploring the possibilities of how they may come to no longer construct and see themselves through whiteness. Understanding this is at the heart of contemporary discussions of post-raciality. Abolishing White Masculinity from Mark Twain to Hip-hop uses the following texts as canonical case studies: Pudd'n Head Wilson and Those Extraordinary Twins by Mark Twain; The Great Gatsby and The Beautiful and the Damned by F. Scott Fitzgerald; and Angry Black White Boy and The End of the Jews by Adam Mansbach. Each underscores the dialectic of formation, deformation, and reformation of whiteness at specific socio-historical moments based upon anxieties about race possessed by whites and highlighted by white fictionists. The selected writers ultimately serve dually as co-constructors of whiteness and social critics of their times through their literature.

Beyond the White Negro Kimberly Chabot Davis, 2014-07-15 Critics often characterize white consumption of African American culture as a form of theft that echoes the fantasies of 1950s era bohemians or White Negroes who romanticized black culture as anarchic and sexually potent. In Beyond the White Negro, Kimberly Chabot Davis claims such a view fails to describe the varied politics of racial crossover in the past fifteen years. Davis analyzes how white engagement with African American novels, film narratives, and hip-hop can help form anti-racist attitudes that may catalyze social change and racial justice. Though acknowledging past failures to establish cross-racial empathy, she focuses on examples that show avenues for future progress and change. Her study of ethnographic data from book clubs and college classrooms shows how engagement with African American culture and pedagogical support can lead to the kinds of white self-examination that make empathy possible. The result is a groundbreaking text that challenges the trend of focusing on society's failures in achieving cross-racial empathy and instead explores possible avenues for change.

Neo-Passing Mollie Godfrey, Vershawn Young, 2018-02-21 African Americans once passed as whites to escape the pains of racism. Today's neo-passing has pushed the old idea of passing in extraordinary new directions. A white author uses an Asian pen name, heterosexuals live out as gay, and irony of ironies, whites try to pass as black. Mollie Godfrey and Vershawn Ashanti Young present essays that explore practices, performances, and texts of neo-passing in our supposedly post-racial moment. The authors move from the postracial imagery of Angry Black White Boy and the issues of sexual orientation and race in ZZ Packer's short fiction to the politics of Dave Chappelle's skits as a black President George W Bush Together the works reveal that the questions raised by neo passing questions about performing and contesting identity in relation to social norms remain as relevant today as in the past Contributors Derek Adams Christopher M Brown Martha J Cutter Marcia Alesan Dawkins Michele Elam Alisha Gaines Jennifer Glaser Allyson Hobbs Brandon J Manning Loran Marsan Lara Narcisi Eden Osucha Gayle Wald and Deborah Elizabeth Whaley "Baad Bitches" and Sassy Supermamas Stephane Dunn, 2008-08-04 This lively study unpacks the intersecting racial sexual and gender politics underlying the representations of racialized bodies masculinities and femininities in early 1970s black action films with particular focus on the representation of black femininity Stephane Dunn explores the typical sexualized subordinate positioning of women in low budget blaxploitation action narratives as well as more seriously radical films like Sweet Sweetback's Baadasssss Song and The Spook Who Sat by the Door in which black women are typically portrayed as trifling bitches compared to the supermacho black male heroes The terms baad bitches and sassy supermamas signal the reversal of this positioning with the emergence of supermama heroines in the few black action films in the early 1970s that featured self assured empowered and tough or baad black women as protagonists Cleopatra Jones Coffy and Foxy Brown Dunn offers close examination of a distinct moment in the history of African American representation in popular cinema tracing its emergence out of a radical political era influenced especially by the Black Power movement and feminism Baad Bitches and Sassy Supermamas also engages blaxploitation's impact and lingering aura in contemporary hip hop culture as suggested by its disturbing gender politics and the baad bitch daughters of Foxy Brown and Cleopatra Jones rappers Lil Kim and Foxy Brown CLA Journal, 2013 White Boy Singin' The Blues Michael Bane, 1992-03-21 White Boy Singin the Blues is both a musical history of Memphis the city which gave birth to rock n roll and an examination of the ways in which white and black musics have interacted In this work Michael Bane examines the whole history of the music from the black roots of spirituals and blues through the beginnings of rock n roll and its evolution through the Twist the British Invasion Motown funk Southern boogie and disco The result is an idiosyncratic history of rock and a culturally penetrating account of this hybrid music The Wire, 2005 Towards a Bibliography of Critical Whiteness Studies Tim Engles, 2006 Getting Off Robert Jensen, 2007 Does porn make the man Race Course Against White Supremacy William Ayers, Bernardine Dohrn, 2009 Arguing that white supremacy has been the dominant political system in the United States since its earliest days and that it is still very much with us the discussion points to unexamined bigotry in the criminal justice system election processes war policy and education The Burying Field Kenneth Abel, 2002 Danny Chiasson is sent to St Tammany's Parish just north of New Orleans It is a place of simmering hatreds and long buried secrets American Culture in the 1960s Sharon Monteith, 2008 A clear overview of the major cultural forms of 1960s America fiction and poetry music and performance film and television art and photography and influential texts of the decade
