Teaching Graphic Novels in the English Classroom Alissa Burger, 2017-10-09. This collection highlights the diverse ways comics and graphic novels are used in English and literature classrooms whether to develop critical thinking or writing skills paired with a more traditional text or as literature in their own right. From fictional stories to non-fiction works such as biography, memoir, history or critical textbooks, graphic narratives provide students a new way to look at the course material and the world around them. Graphic novels have been widely and successfully incorporated into composition and creative writing classes, introductory literature surveys and upper-level literature seminars and present unique opportunities for engaging students multiple literacies and critical thinking skills as well as providing a way to connect to the terminology and theoretical framework of the larger disciplines of rhetoric, writing and literature.

Staff, 2010-09. Literacy and Learning in the Content Areas Sharon Kane, 2017-07-05. The 3rd Edition of Literacy Learning in the Content Areas helps readers build the knowledge, motivation, tools and confidence they need as they integrate literacy into their middle and high school content area classrooms. Its unique approach to teaching content area literacy actively engages preservice and practicing teachers in reading and writing and the very activities that they will use to teach literacy to their own students in middle and high school classrooms. Rather than passively learning about strategies for incorporating content area literacy activities, readers get hands on experience in such techniques as mapping, webbing, anticipation guides, booktalks, class websites and journal writing and reflection. Readers also learn how to integrate children's and young adult literature, primary sources, biographies, essays, poetry and online content, communities and websites into their classrooms. Each chapter offers concrete teaching examples and practical suggestions to help make literacy relevant to students' content area learning. Author Sharon Kane demonstrates how relevant reading, writing, speaking, listening and visual learning activities can improve learning in content area subjects and at the same time help readers meet national content knowledge standards and benchmarks.
