

Humans are responsible to protect animal rights. The universe provided the humans with different benefits and privileges. The survival of the humans achieved because of the capability of the people to depend on different species and creatures. Animal abuse is considered to be one of the most important issues that are highlighted by many of the activists and the animal rights' institutions. The protection of the animals from abusive behavior would ensure the enhancement of the people abilities for the rising of their efforts deployment of the animals in the different activities and operations (Ascione, 2001). The rise of the rates of the animal abuse is based on many factors, such as the rise of the violence incidences and the inability of the law to provide effective system that will be punishing the animal's abusers (Ascione, 2001). The effects of the animal abusive behaviors are considered to be based on the rise of the rates of the criminal and violence behavior in the society and the elimination of the capability of the people to conduct effective system (Bradley, 2014). The following essay is focusing on the identification of the main reasons and the results of the animal abuse.

Violence leads to violence. The witnessing of the violence within the home, televisions, and in schools leads to the socialization of the children and the young people toward the violence behavior. The children would be building positive

Animal Abuse Argumentative Essay:

Children and Animals Frank R. Ascione, 2005 Animal abuse has been an acknowledged problem for centuries but only within the past few decades has scientific research provided evidence that the maltreatment of animals often overlaps with violence toward people The variants of violence including bullying or assaults in a schoolyard child abuse in homes violence between adult intimate partners community hostility in our streets and neighborhoods and even the context of war are now the subject of concerted research efforts Very often the association of these forms of violence with cruelty to animals has been found The perpetrators of such inhumane treatment are often children and adolescents How common are these incidents What motivates human maltreatment of animals Are there cultural societal neighborhood and family contexts that contribute to cruelty to animals How early in a child's life does cruelty to animals emerge and are these incidents always a sign of future interpersonal violence Are there ways of preventing such cruelty Can we intervene effectively with children who already have a history of abuse and violence Children and Animals Exploring the Roots of Kindness and Cruelty presents the current scientific and professional wisdom about the relation between the maltreatment of animals and interpersonal violence directed toward other human beings However the author Frank R Ascione a noted expert in these areas writes in a style and presents the findings in a language that will be understandable to parents teachers counselors clergy animal welfare professionals foster parents mental health professionals youth workers law enforcement professionals and anyone else whose work or interest crosses into the lives of children and adolescents From Idea to Essay Jo Ray McCuen, Anthony C.
