Gotcha Again for Guys! Kathleen A. Baxter, Marcia Agness Kochel, 2010-10-19. Here's help in selecting current nonfiction books that will get boys excited about reading. Enticing boys to read is still a hot topic. With chapters like Disasters and Mysteries, Gross and Disgusting, Machines and the Military, and Prehistoric Creatures, Gotcha Again for Guys. More Nonfiction Books to Get Boys Excited about Reading is a treasure trove of recent nonfiction books that will interest boys in grades 3-8. This sixth entry in Baxter and Kochel's Gotcha series covers books published between 2007 and 2009, with a few oldies but goodies also included. The book is organized into 12 thematic chapters, each of which offers booktalks for a select number of titles, followed by a list of other high interest, well-reviewed titles that correspond with the chapter's topic. Features new to this volume include numerous booklists to be copied and saved, as well as profiles of new and innovative nonfiction authors writing for this age group. In addition, the book features interviews with seven male authors of nonfiction books for boys. Children's Book Review Index 2008 Dana Ferguson, 2008-08-15. The Childrens Book Review Index contains review citations to give your students and researchers access to reviewers' comments and opinions on thousands of books, periodicals, books on tape and electronic media intended and/or recommended for children through age 10. The volume makes it easy to find a review by author's name, book title or illustrator and fully indexes more than 600 periodicals.

Get Up and Move with Nonfiction Nancy Polette, 2007-12-30. Using the approach based on a Harvard study that found when the whole body is involved, the number of brain cells brought to the learning activity doubles, the author offers over one hundred kinesthetic activities. These are organized by content area and include number of players, objective and procedures and nonfiction reading suggestions. Many activities are in game and/or dramatic presentation format. Students are asked to solve real life problems, create circle stories, create original excuses using science vocabulary, assume the role of eyewitness to historical events and much, much more. Grades 4-8. Nancy Polette has produced another winner with this fresh approach to encouraging kids to read, write and research in the content areas. Using an approach based on a recent Harvard study that found when the whole body is involved, the number of brain cells brought to the learning activity doubles, the author offers over one hundred kinesthetic activities for classroom use. Activities are organized by content area, include directions for number of players, objective and procedure and are followed by nonfiction reading suggestions. Many activities are in game and/or dramatic presentation format. Students are given the opportunity to solve real life problems, create circle stories with nonfiction material, create original excuses using science vocabulary, assume the role of eyewitnesses to historical events and much much more Grades 4-8 Picture-Book Professors Melissa M. Terras, 2018-10-04 How is academia portrayed in children's literature? This Element ambitiously surveys fictional professors in texts marketed towards children. Professors are overwhelmingly white and male, tending to be elderly scientists who fall into three stereotypes: the vehicle to explain scientific facts, the baffled genius, and the evil madman. By the late twentieth century, the stereotype of the male mad muddlehead called Professor SomethingDumb is formed in humorous yet pejorative fashion. This Element provides a publishing history of the role of academics in children's literature, questioning the book culture which promotes the enforcement of stereotypes regarding intellectual expertise in children's media. The Element is also available with additional material as Open Access.

Choosing and Using Fiction and Non-Fiction 3-11 Margaret Mallett, 2019-10-30 Choosing and Using Fiction and Non-Fiction 3-11 is a guide for primary teachers to the many kinds of texts children encounter, use and enjoy in their nursery and primary school years, providing an invaluable insight into the literature available. Addressing important issues and allowing for the voices of teachers, reviewers and children to be heard, it contains suggestions of best practice which offer a more creative approach to learning. Including both fiction and non-fiction with genres ranging from picturebooks to biographies, this fully updated second edition features new coverage on recent books, discussion of new changes in concepts of literacy, particularly focused on technological advances in moving image media and virtual worlds. The balance between print and screen based texts on developing children's visual and multimodal literacy. Annotated booklists for each genre for different age groups. New sections on equality, diversity and translation. Exploring fiction, non-fiction and poetry. Choosing and Using Fiction and Non-Fiction 3-11 is an invaluable resource supporting teachers as they help children on their journey to becoming insightful and critical readers of non-fiction and sensitive and reflective readers of fiction.
