This edited collection approaches the most pressing discourses of the Anthropocene and posthumanist culture through the surreal yet instructive lens of Jeff VanderMeer's fiction In contrast to universalist and essentializing ways of responding to new material realities VanderMeer's work invites us to re-imagine human subjectivity and other collectivities in the light of historically unique entanglements we face today the ecological technological aesthetic epistemological and political challenges of life in the Anthropocene era Situating these messy multi-scalar material complexities of life in close relation to their ecological material and colonialist histories his fiction renders them at once troublingly familiar and strangely generative of other potentialities and insight The collection measures VanderMeer's work as a new kind of speculative surrealism his texts capturing the strangeness of navigating a world in which nature has become radically uncanny due to global climate change and powerful bio technologies The first collection to survey academic engagements with VanderMeer this book brings together scholars in the fields of environmental literature science fiction genre studies American literary history philosophy of technology and digital cultures to reflect on the environmentally culturally aesthetically and politically central questions his fiction poses to predominant understandings of the Anthropocene
