2012 Ford Expedition Brochure:

Broken Scales Tom Diaz, 2021-10-15 Humans are a species that classifies. We arrange the flow of the things and events that we see and experience place them into categories and erect boundaries around those categories. Among the boundaries that we erect are those that we put around groups of other human beings. The evil side of human classification of other human beings is that we sometimes create false categories of other people as is often the case in racial, ethnic, and religious stereotypes. This unmindful creation of empty categories of human characteristics is what happened during two periods crucial to the construction of race in America. This is racism. The United States is in a period of deep cultural flux and conflict, much of it seen through the lens of race. Tom Diaz proposes that the everyday actions of ordinary people in the context of extreme political and cultural polarization distort the criminal justice system and betray the lofty ideals expressed in American founding documents and centuries of Anglo American articulations of basic human rights. These everyday actions range across a spectrum from the armed intervention of private citizens in the forms of individual action, neighborhood watches, and citizen's arrests to the expectations imposed on law enforcement in particular and the criminal justice system in general.

Customer Service for Hospitality and Tourism Simon Hudson, Louise Hudson, 2012-11-02 Customer service is of critical importance for the tourism and hospitality sector now more than ever before as customers are looking to increase value for money and are less forgiving of mediocre service. However, despite its importance, quality customer service is the exception rather than the norm in many parts of the world. Customer Service for Hospitality and Tourism is a unique text and vital to both students and practitioners as it explains not only the theory behind the importance of customer service but also acts as a guidebook for those wishing to put this theory into practice. In essence, it is the whys and hows of customer service. It is easy to read, very current, and full of references to all the latest research from both academic and practitioner literature. Chapters cover important topics such as the financial and behavioural consequences of customer service, consumer trends influencing service, developing and maintaining a service culture, managing service encounters, the importance of market research, building and maintaining customer relationships, providing customer service through the servicescape, the impact of technology on customer service, the importance of service recovery, and promoting customer service internally and externally. Key features include: An At Your Service Spotlight at the beginning of each chapter focuses on the achievements of successful individuals related to the art of customer service. Each chapter contains a Service Snapshot, short real-life cases to illustrate a particular concept or theoretical principle presented in the chapter. Detailed international Case Studies which cover a variety of sectors, organizations, and regions designed to foster critical thinking. The cases illustrate actual business scenarios that stress several concepts found in the chapter. They analyze customer service in the U.S., South America, South Africa, Europe, Russia, Australia, China, Canada, Korea, and Dubai.

Matthew Fontaine Maury, Father of Oceanography John Grady, 2015-01-09 In becoming a useful man on the maritime stage, Matthew Fontaine Maury focused on the ills of a clique ridden Navy charted sea lanes and bested Great Britain's admiralty in securing the fastest safest routes to India and Australia He helped bind the Old and New worlds with the laying of the transatlantic cable forcefully advocated Southern rights in a troubled union and preached Manifest Destiny from the Arctic to Cape Horn And he revolutionized warfare in perfecting electronically detonated mines Maury's eagerness to go to the public on the questions of the day riled powerful men in business and politics and the U S Confederate and Royal navies He more than once ran afoul of Jefferson Davis and Stephen R Mallory secretary of the Confederate States Navy But through the political social and scientific struggles of his time Maury had his share of powerful allies like President John Tyler
