The Master Plant Andrew Russell,Elizabeth Rahman,2020-06-03 Described as a master plant by many indigenous groups in lowland South America tobacco is an essential part of shamanic ritual as well as a source of everyday health wellbeing and community In sharp contrast to the condemnation of the tobacco industry and its place in contemporary public health discourse the book considers tobacco in a more nuanced light as an agent both of enlightenment and destruction Exploring the role of tobacco in the lives of indigenous peoples The Master Plant offers an important and unique contribution to this field of study through its focus on lowland South America the historical source region of this controversial plant yet rarely discussed in recent scholarship The ten chapters in this collection bring together ethnographic accounts key developments in anthropological theory and emergent public health responses to indigenous tobacco use Moving from a historical study of tobacco usage covering the initial domestication of wild varieties and its value as a commodity in colonial times to an examination of the transcendent properties of tobacco and the magic symbolism and healing properties associated with it the authors present wide ranging perspectives on the history and cultural significance of this important plant The final part of the book examines the changing landscape of tobacco use in these communities today set against the backdrop of the increasing power of the national and transnational tobacco industry The first critical overview of tobacco and its uses across lowland South America this book encourages new ways of thinking about the problems of commercially exploited tobacco both within and beyond this source region Foodwise Wendy E. Cook,2003-01-01 Through her daughter s illness Wendy Cook began to study the deep aspects of nutrition and particularly the effects of different foods on human health and consciousness In Foodwise she presents a cornucopia of ideas advice and commentary informed by the work of Rudolf Steiner Cook relates human evolution to changes in consciousness and the consumption of different foods considering among other topics the importance of agricultural methods the nature of the human being the significance of grasses and grains the mystery of human digestion and the question of vegetarianism She also analyzes the nutritional or otherwise qualities of carbohydrates minerals fats and oils milk and dairy products herbs and spices salt and sweeteners stimulants legumes the nightshade family bread water and dietary supplements She ends this comprehensive survey of nutrition with practical tips on cooking planning menus children s food and sharing meals and some mouth watering recipes
