to develop a more informed assessment of its opponent Ship crews along with US aviators were tasked to collect information by making a thorough observation of how the Japanese fought Action reports described how the Imperial fleet demonstrated a number of weaknesses the most important of which was a shortage of modern equipment and after 1942 diminished air power Yet he demonstrates how the Japanese remained a resilient enemy who could be defeated only when the Americans deployed sufficient equipment and used it in an appropriate manner The Office of Naval Intelligence as well as the intelligence services operating in the Pacific theater thus had to assess a wide array of conflicting characteristics and provide a balanced evaluation concerning the strengths and weaknesses of the Imperial navy At the same time a large part of the intelligence analysis was undertaken by commanders in the Pacific Fleet Naval personnel and aircrews assessed the information gained through encounters with the enemy so that they could develop a set of methods whereby US forces were able defeat the Japanese without incurring excessive casualties and losses The intelligence services in turn played an important role in disseminating the information on the most efficient tactics and weapons that could be used to defeat the Imperial Fleet The Elusive Enemy aims to explain how American perceptions concerning the Japanese navy evolved during the conflict with a particular focus on the role of intelligence It also seeks to introduce a new perspective on the question as to why the U S Navy carried out its campaigns during the Pacific War in the manner that it did NV Magazine ,2001-02
