

Parts of the DBQ: Task Page and Responding with a Thesis Statement

Notice in the Task you have to take a position; Agree or Disagree. In responding to the question, your thesis statement might look something like this.

Peaceful protests are the most effective way to change society because most people have a positive response to demonstrations that are not violent.

OR

Peaceful protests are not the most effective way to change society because people don't pay attention to peaceful demonstrations.

Notice that a thesis statement is one sentence. It usually restates the question in the Task. The thesis statement clearly states your position. You present your arguments or reasons why you believe as you do to support your thesis, but not in the thesis statement. The evidence and information to support your position come next.

Parts of the DBQ: Documents / Questioning Page

This section contains the primary source materials and guiding questions to help you develop your essay. Guiding questions help you think about what you will write and what evidence or documents support your thesis. Here is an example of Documents with a guiding question. Guiding Question: How are King's and Gandhi's positions on nonviolent, peaceful protests alike?

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

"The phrase 'passive resistance' often gives the false impression that this is a sort of 'do-nothing method' in which the resister quietly and passively accepts evil. But nothing is further from the truth. For while the nonviolent resister is passive in the sense that he is not physically aggressive toward his opponent, his mind and emotions are always active, constantly seeking to persuade his opponent that he is wrong."

Mahatma Gandhi

"An unjust law is itself a species of violence. Arrest for its breach is more so. Now the law of nonviolence says that violence should be resisted not by counter-violence but by nonviolence. This I do by breaking the law and by peacefully submitting to arrest and imprisonment."
