5th Grade Science Common Core Standards:

Next Generation Science Standards NGSS Lead States, 2013-09-15 Next Generation Science Standards identifies the science all K-12 students should know. These new standards are based on the National Research Council's A Framework for K-12 Science Education. The National Research Council, the National Science Teachers Association, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and Achieve have partnered to create standards through a collaborative, state-led process. The standards are rich in content and practice and arranged in a coherent manner across disciplines and grades to provide all students an internationally benchmarked science education. The print version of Next Generation Science Standards complements the nextgenscience.org website and provides an authoritative offline reference to the standards when creating lesson plans. Arranged by grade level and by core discipline, making information quick and easy to find. Printed in full color with a lay flat spiral binding. Allows for bookmarking, highlighting, and annotating.

Hard-to-Teach Science Concepts

Susan Koba, Carol T. Mitchell, 2011 Authors Susan Koba and Carol Mitchell introduce teachers of grades 3-5 to their conceptual framework for successful instruction of hard-to-teach science concepts. Their methodology comprises four steps: 1. engage students about their preconceptions and address their thinking; 2. target lessons to be learned; 3. determine appropriate strategies; and 4. use standards-based teaching that builds on student understandings. The authors not only explain how to use their framework but also provide a variety of tools and examples of its application on four hard-to-teach foundational concepts: the flow of energy and matter in ecosystems, force and motion, matter and its transformation, and Earth's shape. Both preservice and inservice elementary school teachers will find this approach appealing, and the authors' engaging writing style and user-friendly tables help educators adapt the method with ease.

Social-Emotional Learning Through STEAM Projects, Grades 4-5 Season

Mussey, 2022-02-27 Social Emotional Learning Through STEAM Projects Grades 4-5 helps educators target the development of social and emotional learning (SEL) competencies for high ability learners through interdisciplinary project-based inquiry. Aligned with STEAM content standards, each of the nine projects introduces students to a real world problem through essential questions and the presentation of a primary source document. Both the content and the inquiry process support SEL competency development from self-awareness to self-management, social awareness, relationship skills, and responsible decision making. As students work to understand and pose solutions to each problem, they gain the knowledge and practical skills needed to become more socially and emotionally competent individuals in their classroom communities.
