Turning High-Poverty Schools into High-Performing Schools William H. Parrett, Kathleen M. Budge, 2020-04-28 Schools across the United States and Canada are disrupting the adverse effects of poverty and supporting students in ways that enable them to succeed in school and in life. In this second edition Parrett and Budge show you how your school can achieve similar results. Expanding on their original framework's still critical concepts of actions and school culture they incorporate new insights for addressing equity trauma and social emotional learning. These fresh perspectives combine with lessons learned from 12 additional high poverty high performing schools to form the updated and enhanced Framework for Collective Action. Emphasizing students social emotional and academic learning as the hub for all action in high performing high poverty schools the authors describe how educators can work within the expanded Framework to address the needs of all students but particularly those who live in poverty. Equipped with the Framework and a plethora of tools to build collective efficacy self assessments high leverage questions action advice and more school and district leaders as well as teachers teacher leaders instructional coaches and other staff can close persistent opportunity gaps and reverse longstanding patterns of low achievement.

Engaging Teacher Candidates and Language Learners With Authentic Practice Lenkaitis, Chesla Ann, Hilliker, Shannon M., 2019-06-28 Teacher candidates need authentic practice with language learners so that they can test and hone their skills based on the concepts learned in their teacher education programs with real students. These candidates need practice before and beyond student teaching and fieldwork If they are given the chance to practice during as many teacher education courses as possible and have access to language learners throughout their programs they can focus on applying the specific content of each class they take in a real world context with real students Engaging Teacher Candidates and Language Learners With Authentic Practice highlights strategies teacher educators can use to give their teacher candidates authentic practice attached to coursework By focusing on ways that authentic practice has been integrated into teacher preparation programs and studies that have been realized this publication will provide practical ways for others to provide this authentic practice which is much needed in teacher preparation programs This book highlights topics such as pedagogy student engagement and intercultural competence and is ideal for educators administrators researchers and students
