the next, the title of the new "Star" series. They then asked a short set of basic questions (Demographic, educational background, reading, reading interests, reading frequency, reading motivation, reading pleasure). Previous literature suggested a few items about reading pleasure (reading was "fun" and the reader was "excited" and "alive"), but none asked about reading motivation.

It is not clear if these findings are representative of the general population, as the mean age of participants was 30 years old, and the mean age of the non-participants was 29 years old. However, the mean age of the participants was significantly greater than the non-participants, and the mean age of the non-participants was significantly greater than the mean age of the participants. This suggests that the participants were older than the non-participants, and the non-participants were younger than the participants.
