designed exactly on the pattern of the NTSE 1st State Exams and 2nd stage National Exam Heritage, Affect and Emotion

Divya P. Tolia-Kelly,Emma Waterton,Steve Watson,2016-07-01 Heritage and its economies are driven by affective politics and consolidated through emotions such as pride awe joy and pain In the humanities and social sciences there is a widespread acknowledgement of the limits not only of language and subjectivity but also of visuality and representation Social scientists particularly within cultural geography and cultural studies have recently attempted to define and understand that which is more than representational through the development of theories of affect assemblage post humanism and actor network theory to name a few While there have been some recent attempts to draw these lines of thinking more forcefully into the field of heritage studies this book focuses for the first time on relating heritage with the politics of affect The volume argues that our engagements with heritage are almost entirely figured through the politics of affective registers such as pain loss joy nostalgia pleasure belonging or anger It brings together a number of contributions that collectively and with critical acuity question how researchers working in the field of heritage might begin to discover and describe affective experiences especially those that are shaped and expressed in moments and spaces that can be at times intensely personal intimately shared and ultimately social It explores current theoretical advances that enable heritage to be affected released from conventional understandings of both heritage as objects and objects as representations by opening it up to a range of new meanings emergent and formed in moments of encounter Whilst representational understandings of heritage are by no means made redundant through this agenda they are destabilized and can thus be judged anew in light of these developments Each chapter offers a novel and provocative contribution provided by an interdisciplinary team of researchers who are thinking theoretically about affect through landscapes practices of commemoration visitor experience site

The Algebra of Warfare-Welfare Irfan Ahmad, Pralay Kanungo, 2018-12-24. Electoral democracy combines the ideas and practices of warfare and welfare, where both work in tandem as near synonyms. India's robust electoral democracy exemplifies this combination in diverse forms. Critically analysing the 2014 Parliamentary elections beyond the seduction of immediacy and bare cold statistics, this book puts human subjectivity at the centre of election studies and through an anthropological sociological approach makes lives human and non-human lived and un-lived or unlivable central to any understanding of elections and democracy. Crafting a new comprehensive approach, this volume looks at the 2014 elections in relation to the changing nature and forms of elections and democracy globally. Coming from multidisciplinary backgrounds, the contributors to this volume use ethnographic observations to open up a space for new theoretical and methodological reflections on the role of media in Indian elections, the shift to the right in 2014 and its consequences, the significance of traditional Hindu spaces such as the river Ganga in BJP's victory, the role of gurus like Baba Ramdev and the electoral choices available to and exercised by the minorities among others.

Urban Animals Tora Holmberg, 2015-03-27. The city includes opportunities as well as constraints for humans and other animals alike. Urban animals are often subjected to complaints as they transgress geographical, legal and cultural ordering systems while roaming the city in what is often perceived as uncontrolled ways. But they are also objects of care, conservation practices and bio-political interventions. What then are the more than human experiences of living in a city? What does it mean to consider spatial formations and urban politics from the perspective of human-animal relations? This book draws on a number of case studies to explore urban controversies around human-animal relations in particular: companion animals, free-ranging dogs, homeless and feral cats, urban animal hoarding and crazy cat ladies. The book explores zoocities.

the theoretical framework in which animal studies meet urban studies resulting in a reframing of urban relations and space Through the expansion of urban theories beyond the human and the resuscitation of sociological theories through animal studies literature the book seeks to uncover the phenomenon of humanimal crowding both as threats to be policed and as potentially subversive In this book a number of urban controversies and crowding technologies are analysed finally pointing at alternative modes of trans species urban politics through the promises of humanimal crowding of proximity and collective agency The exclusion of animals may be an urban ideology aiming at social order but close attention to the level of practice reveals a much more diverse disordered and perhaps disturbing experience     Dictionary Catalog of the Research Libraries of the New York Public Library, 1911-1971 New York Public Library.
