Please note: the manuscript(s) listed above come from the ACP/WHO collection, and represent those the National Institute Of Health says are "unavailable" and therefore the authors for various countries may have more than one manuscript about some of the topics. Although their other research is ongoing, during the past few decades in their countries they had a great deal of time to spend on their research. (The fact that personnel in countries in the Americas had a lot of time for research shows that they are interested in their own health care in general. Right, but they are also more interested in their own health care in general than in the health care of other countries.)
