

1. Tenancy	The rental of property. To attract settlers in New York's Hudson River Valley, Dutch and English landlords offered tenants long-term leases, with the right to sell improvements — houses and barns, for example — to the next tenant.
2. Competency	The ability of a family to keep a household solvent and independent and to pass that ability on to the next generation.
3. Subsistence mode of production	The system of exchanging goods and labor that helped eighteenth-century New England freetholders survive on their shrinking farms. As available land became more scarce.
4. Squatter	Someone who settles on land he or she does not own or rent. Many eighteenth-century settlers established themselves on land before it was surveyed and entered for sale, requesting the first right to purchase the land when sales began.
5. Indentured	A common type of indentured servant in the Middle Colonies in the eighteenth century. Unlike other indentured servants, indentured men did not sign a contract before leaving Europe. Instead, they found employers after arriving in America.
6. Enlightenment	An eighteenth-century philosophical movement that emphasized the use of reason to reassess previously accepted doctrines and traditions and the power of reason to understand and shape the world.
7. Pietism	A Christian revival movement characterized by Bible study, the conversion experience, and the individual's personal relationship with God. It began as an effort to reform the German Lutheran Church in the mid-seventeenth century and became widely influential in Britain and its colonies in the eighteenth century.
