New Features in PowerPoint 2007

PowerPoint 2007 offers many new features over PowerPoint 2003; some of the new and improved features listed in red are described in greater detail in this guide.

- The most noticeable change is the completely redesigned Office Ribbon (UI), which offers different view systems, most people adapt to the new design very quickly, liking it much better because it is easier to find what you want and offers the ability to preview changes before actually making them.
- Many spelling and grammar options, as well as content dictionaries can be set and used in any Office program and apply to all other Office programs that support the feature.
- Continuous Spelling flags words that are spelled correctly but used incorrectly in context (e.g., the instead of there).
- Office documents can be digitally signed to prove authenticity and that it hasn't been modified since it was created.

- Document Properties: is a tool to click for comments, annotations, revisions, hidden text, personal data, etc., before distributing the document.
- Mark as Final: prevents editing of the presentation when it is finished with a security status as it can easily be removed.
- Smart graphics: are a simple way to help create professional-looking graphics from text (e.g., points that are related to a topic or by a hierarchy); a pyramid to show how one thing leads to another; including included text can also be converted into SmartArt.
- Office Ribbon, Ribbon, Ribbon, and Ribbon: can have many visual effects applied to them, such as rotating them in 3-D, adding a glow around them, adding a bevel, or rotating (moving) them.
- Custom slide layouts can be created and saved (based on the predefined templates the slides in your presentation) with any number of placeholders of any type (text, images, clip art, SmartArt, etc.).
