

1. How do the respondents' perceptions differ on group norms? When is the technology considered the medium for innovation? Is that enough for them to feel that they have the power to change?
How respondents' in general place different priorities? Their responses concerning innovation are also consistent with their educational level. Gender seems to have no connection with responses.
The responses about the main factors and factors influencing self-efficacy concerning the application of technology seems to be consistent with the responses of the respondents.

2. What about their experiences in using a tool suggesting that respondents' in the survey think that a better way to evaluate the respondents' work is to use a computer program, and that it is easier for them to use the internet when doing their work than the paper language that they used earlier. Most female students are more experienced in using a computer because of past years in the school system. The respondents' answer these questions are fairly by following an individualized subject matter rather than a subject requiring a lot of time and being in connection.
