I worked in several departments and gained knowledge about all aspects of the business.
I believe this job will allow me to acquire new skills and boost my earnings. My gap year in the States definitely improved my employability, and working for IBM certainly enhanced my CV.
On my business studies course I received tuition from practising managers and obtained experience on work placements.

I wasn't very motivated at all when I was younger, so I failed my exams in 2009 and had to retake them the following summer. I'd already decided I wanted to take a gap year there to go to business school, so this time I completed all the coursework and revised thoroughly. I passed easily. I spent a year abroad as an assistant in a secondary school and then went to business school - I'd already applied and successfully attended an interview before finishing my exams.
In my second year as an undergraduate, I spent a semester as an intern at New York Pictures, which was very rewarding. In fact, I went straight into a job at IIP after I graduated the following June. They encouraged me to do a Master's degree by correspondence - I just have to finish writing a dissertation. I need a break now, but I may take a sabbatical to study for an MBA in a few years' time.
