Algorithms in Decision Support Systems Vicente García-Díaz, 2021-03-19 This book aims to provide a new vision of how algorithms are the core of decision support systems DSSs which are increasingly important information systems that help to make decisions related to unstructured and semi unstructured decision problems that do not have a simple solution from a human point of view It begins with a discussion of how DSSs will be vital to improving the health of the population The following article deals with how DSSs can be applied to improve the performance of people doing a specific task like playing tennis It continues with a work in which authors apply DSSs to insect pest management together with an interactive platform for fitting data and carrying out spatial visualization The next article improves how to reschedule trains whenever disturbances occur together with an evaluation framework The final works focus on different relevant areas of DSSs 1 a comparison of ensemble and dimensionality reduction models based on an entropy criterion 2 a radar emitter identification method based on semi supervised and transfer learning 3 design limitations errors and hazards in creating very large scale DSSs and 4 efficient rule generation for associative classification We hope you enjoy all the contents in the book the subsequent years several versions of the bibliography were produced with two of these being made available in a report form to other researchers From the widespread interest in these documents it became evident that there was a need for a commercially available comprehensive bibliography in this area A major effort was undertaken to revise update and extend the data base resulting in this present volume The bibliography covers the period 1956 1975 primarily although some earlier publications of historical interest are included The citations are not restricted to the English language and documents are listed in many languages and from diverse places of origin All publication formats were accepted so that references will be found to books monographs journal papers and articles theses dissertations reports surveys and the like Australian
