Teaching Vocabulary in All Classrooms Camille L. Z. Blachowicz, Peter Fisher, 2002 Updated with new strategies ideas and websites this research based book features a wealth of ideas for developing vocabulary in all content areas. Many of the techniques explored in this book have the broader goal of enhancing the acquisition of content knowledge. The authors do an exceptional job of combining a strong research base with field tested strategies for developing vocabulary in any K-12 classroom. Chapter topics include learning vocabulary from context, integrating vocabulary and reading strategy instruction, learning vocabulary in literature based reading instruction, learning vocabulary in the content areas using dictionaries and other references, assessing vocabulary knowledge, vocabulary instruction for learners with special needs, vocabulary and spelling instruction using structural analysis and wordplay in the classroom. For elementary school teachers of reading, language arts, social studies, science and remedial education.

Creating Reading Instruction for All Children Thomas G. Gunning, 1996 This book will not tell you how to teach reading. Teaching reading is in large measure a matter of making choices. Should you use basal readers or children's books or both? Should you teach children to read whole words or to sound out words letter by letter or both? Should you have three reading groups or four or no groups? There are no right answers to these questions. The answers depend on your personal philosophy, your interpretation of the research, the level at which you are teaching, the kinds of students you are teaching, community preferences and the nature of your school or school district's reading program.
