ORGANIZATION OF LIVING THINGS

SCIENCE IN FOCUS – BIODIVERSITY, EARLY

What Do You Understand About How Are Living Things Organized?

Living things are organized into different levels of organization. The levels of organization are: cell, tissue, organ, organ system, organism, population, community, ecosystem, and biosphere. Each level of organization has a specific function and is made up of different parts.

Cells are the basic units of life. They are made up of different parts, including a nucleus, cytoplasm, and cell membrane. Cells work together to form tissues, which are groups of similar cells that work together to perform a specific function.

Organs are made up of different tissues that work together to perform a specific function. For example, the heart is an organ that pumps blood throughout the body. Organ systems are made up of different organs that work together to perform a specific function. For example, the digestive system is made up of the mouth, stomach, and intestines.
