Larres,2001-02-13 A decade after the fall of the Berlin Wall the collapse of the GDR and the end of the Cold War Germany has begun to cope with the political economic social and nationalistic challenges unification has posed to its institutions and way of life in both the western and eastern part of the once divided nation The books eleven authors all experts in their field analyse the way united Germany has tackled the many unforeseen problems and highlighted the gradually emerging short and long term patterns in Germany's slow adjustment to the new realities The country has not only become more populous and territorially bigger but also burdened with much underestimated problems particularly economic and social ones The emergence of a new economic political and perhaps military superstate as feared by many in 1990 has not materialised Instead Germany today is only just coping with the domestic and external challenges of unification The economic and social integration of the former East Germany into the Federal Republic has still not been completed and may take yet another ten to fifteen years The book is a timely and well researched effort by a team of outstanding experts to evaluate Germany's performance to date It gives the reader ample and well analysed information to comprehend the many challenges facing Germany and its European neighbours in the post Cold War world

Economic Aspects of German Unification Paul J.J. Welfens,2012-12-06 Paul J J Welfens The editor is pleased to present a second edition of Economic

Aspects of German Unification which includes new chapters and several postscripts Almost five years after unification output in the ex GDR is back to its 1989 level Due to a massive intra German resource transfer consumption per capita in eastern Germany has not fallen as much as output and employment which reduced by one fifth within three years Given high West German transfers which represented about 5% of West German GDP and more than 50% of East German GDP the fall of industrial output could have been much stronger than had politically been feasible Hence structural change necessary for productivity growth was dramatic in the ex GDR where the goods producing sector manufacturing mining energy and construction strongly changed its proportions within four years construction almost doubled and the share of investment goods production reduced by 10 percentage points between 1990 and 1994 and is now down to 21 1 % Mining lost two thirds of its share in the producing sector which itself was reduced relative to GDP The share of the services industry increased by 5 percentage points between 1991 and 1994 but with a share of 27 7% in East Germany s GDP it was still about 9 percentage points lower than in western Germany By contrast government accounted for 20 9% of GDP in eastern Germany but for only 13 2% in western Germany
