Answers To Zimsec Paper 2 Nov 2011:

'Progress' in Zimbabwe? David Moore, Norma Kriger, Brian Raftopoulos, 2013-09-13 Zimbabwe's severe crisis and a possible way out of it with a transitional government and the new era for which it prepares the ground demands a coherent scholarly response. Progress can be employed as an organising theme across many disciplinary approaches to Zimbabwe's societal devastation. At wider levels too the concept of progress is fitting. It underpins modern liberal and radical perspectives of development pervading the social sciences and humanities. Yet perceptions of progress are subject increasingly to intensive critical inquiry. Their gruesome end is signified in the political projects of Robert Mugabe and ZANU PF. John Gray's Black Mass Apocalyptic Religion and the Death of Utopia indicates this. It is expected that participants will engage directly in debates about how the idea of progress has informed their disciplines from political science and history to labour and agrarian studies and then relate these arguments to the Zimbabwean case in general and their research in particular. This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary African Studies.

Derman: In the Shadow of a Conflict, 2023-01-10 Zimbabwe has cast a powerful regional and international shadow since it became independent in 1980 and more recently through the crises of the first decade of the twenty first century. The 2000s were a decade of combined political, economic and social crises in Zimbabwe following what had been a relatively successful twenty years of independence since 1980. The scale, depth and severity of the crises evolving since 2000 have been as dramatic as they have been unexpected. While there has been substantial coverage of the internal consequences of Zimbabwe's crises, less attention has been paid to its regional and cross border consequences. In explaining the ongoing processes stemming from the crises, this book looks at three neighboring countries: Mozambique, South Africa and Zambia, to depict how over time they have experienced and interpreted events in Zimbabwe, how they have dealt with Zimbabweans entering their territories and how they have or have not formulated policies and developed practices to cope with the arrival of new and mainly undocumented Zimbabwean immigrants.

Advances in Managing Humanitarian Operations Christopher W. Zobel, Nezih Altay, Mark P. Haselkorn, 2015-12-17. This volume provides a survey of current research problems and results in humanitarian operations research. Additionally, it discusses existing applications of humanitarian operations research and considers new research efforts that clearly extend existing research and applications. The book is divided into three sections that provide an overview of the subject, a look at the theory and an examination of applications. The overview section presents chapters on modeling approaches and metrics to evaluate nonprofit operations, chief findings of fieldwork research in disaster response logistics, the use of cash as a form of relief and measuring markets that supply cash based humanitarian interventions. The theory section includes chapters that examine the partner proliferation problem in disaster response networks, a case study of humanitarian logistics that examines how humanitarian culture informs change adoption and a look at the current state of the art for information visibility in humanitarian operations. Finally, the application section focuses on blood products, vaccines and food assistance with individual chapters on efficient inventorying and distribution of blood products during disasters a detailed look at modeling in the context of the vaccine supply chain a framework for achieving equity effectiveness and efficiency in food bank operations and a spatio temporal vulnerability assessment of the resilience of a population affected by sudden lack of food

Vulnerabilities, Impacts, and Responses to HIV/AIDS in Sub-Saharan Africa

Getnet Tadele, Helmut Kloos, 2013-05-07 This book examines HIV AIDS vulnerabilities impacts and responses in the socioeconomic and cultural context of Sub Saharan Africa With contributions from social scientists and public health experts the volume identifies gender inequality and poverty as the main causes of the HIV epidemic in sub Saharan Africa

Indigenous Knowledge and Climate Governance Eromose E. Ebhuoma, Llewellyn Leonard, 2022-06-04 This book investigates indigenous knowledge systems IKS in sub Saharan Africa thereby highlighting its role in facilitating adaptation to climate variability and change and also demystifying the challenges that prevent it from being integrated with scientific knowledge in climate governance schemes Indigenous people and their priceless knowledge rarely feature when decision makers prepare for future climate change This book showcases how Indigenous knowledge facilitates adaptation to climate change including how collaborations with scientific knowledge have cascaded into building people's resilience to climatic risks This book also pays delicate attention to the factors fueling epistemic injustice towards Indigenous knowledge which hampers it from featuring in climate governance schemes across sub Saharan Africa The key insights shared in this book illuminate the issues that contribute meaningfully towards the actualisation of the UN SDG 13 and promote mechanisms for raising capacity for effective climate change related planning and management in sub Saharan Africa
