Resources in education, 1987-09 Along the Path to Recovery: Supporting Student Learning Motivation, Engagement and Development in Post-Pandemic Higher Education Genshu Lu, Mei Tian, Hongbiao Yin, Boliang Guo, 2025-12-12 The COVID 19 pandemic has caused unprecedented disruptions in educational systems on a global scale. It is estimated that the learning trajectories of approximately 1.5 billion students have been adversely affected with the most vulnerable segments of the student population having suffered the most. Currently three years post-outbreak educational institutions have re-opened worldwide however higher education is still in recovery grappling with the long term impact of the prolonged closures. Managing the aftermath of the pandemic calls for the implementation of innovative teaching and learning practices. Such practices should be informed by an in-depth and critical reflection on the lessons that we have learned during this crisis aimed at supporting and reinforcing students learning and development. In an era marked by uncertainty and constant changes it is crucial that our higher education sector remains resilient and adaptable ensuring that students are equipped to learn, develop and thrive in the future world. Recent decades have seen a significant increase in research investigating learning motivation and engagement within higher education establishing these topics as central
