April 2005 Memo Building Science:

Military Control in Pakistan Mazhar Aziz, 2007-10-24 This volume examines the role of the military the most influential actor in Pakistan and challenges conventional wisdom on the causes of political instability in this geographically important nuclear state It rejects views that ethnic and religious cleavages and perceived economic or political mismanagement by civilian governments triggers military intervention in Pakistan The study argues instead that the military intervenes to remove civilian governments where the latter are perceived to be undermining the military's institutional interests Mazhar Aziz shows that the Pakistani military has become a parallel state and given the extent of its influence will continue to define the nature of governance within the polity Overall Military Control in Pakistan is a timely reminder and an important resource for both scholars and policy makers clearly demonstrating the need to refocus attention on the problem of an influential military whilst drawing appropriate conclusions about issues ranging from democratic norms political representation and civilian military relations Library & Information Science Abstracts, 2006 Heat George Monbiot, 2007-06-07 Started to worry about just how hot our world is going to get and whether you can do anything about it As the effect of climate change grows by the day so does the amount of hot air and bluster spouted by politicians and businessmen on what we should do about it What with the excuses the lies the fudged figures the PR greenwashing and the downright misinformation on the power of everything from wind turbines to carbon trading when it comes to saving the world most people don't know what they're talking about Luckily George Monbiot scourge of big business ruler of governments arch enemy of climate change deniers everywhere does Packed with killer facts and inspiring ideas shot through with passion and underlined by brilliant investigative journalism with a copy of Heat you really can protect the planet I defy you to read this book and not feel motivated to change The Times Nuclear is Not the Solution M.V. Ramana, 2026-01-06 NUCLEAR POWER WILL NOT SAVE US The climate crisis has inspired new hope in nuclear energy Its advocates claim we already have the technology of the future ready to be perfected and deployed But as M V Ramana argues in this urgent and lucid book such thinking is not only naive but dangerous Beyond the horrific risk of severe accidents and the intractable problem of waste disposal nuclear energy fails the two key tests for any climate solution cost and time More expensive than wind and solar it is also far slower to bring online A typical plant takes a decade to build permitting and financing often add another These are years we do not have Nuclear Is Not the Solution dismantles the myth of cheap clean atomic energy and exposes the vested interests that seek to profit from the technology while offloading its costs and risks onto the public Technical Report, 2006 Research for the Developing World Bruce Currie-Alder, 2015 Research for the developing world can create evidence on the effectiveness of foreign aid invent new technologies to help poor people and strengthen research in poor countries How do countries determine which policy goals to pursue This book answers this question based on the history of research funders in Australia Canada and the UK Design and Science R. Roger

Remington, Robert S. P. Fripp, 2007 It has been said that Will Burtin 1908 1972 was to graphic design what Albert Einstein was to physics Burtin pioneered important contributions to international typography and visual design He is best known as the world leader in using design to interpret science as a proponent of clean uncluttered sans serif typography and for his large scale three dimensional models which carried the craft and the art of display to new heights His walk through models included a human blood cell 1958 and brain functions 1960 His major achievement his clarity and ingenuity with models and graphics made complex information easy to assimilate Early success in his native Germany brought Burtin unwelcome attention from Nazi leaders courting his services He fled with his Jewish wife to the United States Within months he won the prestigious contract to create the Federal Works Agency exhibit for the 1939 New York World s Fair The wartime Office of Strategic Services drafted Burtin to create Air Force gunnery manuals cutting recruits training from six months to six weeks In 1945 with the U S still at war Fortune magazine lobbied to extract Burtin from the army in order to appoint him Art Director By the late 1950s he was designing the walk through exhibits for which he is renowned The first monograph on Burtin Design and Science illustrates his leadership in five fields using graphics to visualize science and information pre war corporate identity from the mid 1940s multimedia which he called Integration from 1948 large scale scientific visualization in 3 D from 1958 foreshadowing computer assisted virtual environments i e CAVE space and with others promoting Helvetica in North America Illustrations of Burtin s work that have never before been published make this invaluable book essential reading for design professionals and all those interested in design visualization imaging and information technology
