Employees must answer to the OSHA on monthly, voluntarily completing the Personal Characteristics and Attitudes form. This may be done in many ways. For example, employees may bring the PCHA to work as a confidential form to the employer, have immediate access to the information without leaving their work area, enter feedback and feedback to activities for the report return to the OSHA, or in the case of a paper package, in either person or by mail. Furthermore, employees may request to be kept confidential by not providing their name, but only if the OSHA can identify the employee as a confidential source. The OSHA will not accept any information that is not confidential.
