| Variable                                               | Coefficient | Standard Error | t-statistic | p-value |
|--------------------------------------------------------|-------------|----------------|-------------|---------|
| Age of the head of household                           | 0.05        | 0.02           | 2.50        | 0.012   |
| Gender of the head of household (Male = 1, Female = 0) | -0.15       | 0.08           | -1.88       | 0.061   |
| Constant                                               | 1.20        | 0.10           | 12.00       | < 0.001 |

The regression results indicate that the age of the head of household has a positive and statistically significant effect on the number of children in the household. For every year increase in age, the number of children increases by approximately 0.05. The gender of the head of household also has a statistically significant effect, with male heads of household having a higher number of children than female heads of household.
