Florida Preparing for FCAT Mathematics Kay Williams,2000 Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff,Staff Bowker, Ed,2004 Grading Education Richard Rothstein,2008-12-14 Yes we should hold public schools accountable for effectively spending the vast funds with which they have been entrusted But accountability policies like No Child Left Behind based exclusively on math and reading test scores have narrowed the curriculum misidentified both failing and successful schools and established irresponsible expectations for what schools can accomplish Instead of just grading progress in one or two narrow subjects we should hold schools accountable for the broad outcomes we expect from public education basic knowledge and skills critical thinking an appreciation of the arts physical and emotional health and preparation for skilled employment and then develop the means to measure and ensure schools success in achieving them Grading Education describes a new kind of accountability plan for public education one that relies on higher quality testing focuses on professional evaluation and builds on capacities we already possess This important resource Describes the design of an alternative accountability system that would not corrupt education as does NCLB and its state testing systems Explains the original design of NAEP in the 1960s and shows why it should be revived Defines the broad goals of education beyond math and reading test scores and reports on surveys to confirm public and governmental support for such goals Relates these broad goals of education to the desire for accountability in education Learning to Teach Richard Arends,2008-10-31 This best selling text provides comprehensive coverage of general teaching methods and models The most balanced text in its field Learning to Teach strikes a harmony by integrating researched based foundations with practical consideration and opportunity for real world application The text provides strong coverage of both teacher centered and student centered models By covering all major teaching models plus the leadership skills of teaching including planning classroom management assessment motivation and management of time and space Learning to Teach helps future teachers master both the theory and application of successful teaching The Monday Report Florida.
