Illust. 62—Battery and Cables.

When tractors equipped with electric starting and lighting are shipped from the factory, the battery ground cable is disconnected. In addition, the "generator field to switch cable" (Ref. The "generator field to switch cable" should be connected to the terminal screw located at the right of the generator field resistance coil. Refer to Illusts. 64 and 99.

Before working on any part of the electrical system, disconnect the battery ground cable, Illust. 62. Do not reconnect this cable until all electrical work has been completed. This will prevent shorting and causing damage to any of the electrical units.

The light switch not only operates the lights but it also is used to manually control the generator output. This switch, Illust. 63, can be operated from the operator's seat. The switch has four positions, Low Charge, High Charge, Dim and Bright.

During the daytime, when the lights are not used, the switch should be placed in the Low Charge position. This adds a resistance coil to the field circuit and reduces the output of the generator to approximately one-half of its original charge rate. If the charge in the battery is low, place
