Understanding educational success of Alberta or Finland needs to include an awareness of socio cultural political and economic factors issues covered in several chapters of this book Indeed education policies that drive better equity and equality in these systems must be kept at the center of attention when considering any lessons from these high performing school systems Finland has shown just like Alberta that educational change should be systematic and coherent in contrast with the current haphazard intervention efforts of many other countries my own conclusion is that developing the capacities of schools through interventions like AISI Alberta Initiative for School Improvement in Alberta and school led curriculum system in Finland is much more important than testing the hell out of students and that some out of school policies and support mechanisms to families and children associated with health well being and happiness are also necess

Imagined Liberation Heribert Adam,Kogila Moodley,2013-12-01 On a spectrum of hostility towards irregular migrants South Africa ranks on top Germany in the middle and Canada at the bottom South African xenophobic violence by impoverished slum dwellers is directed against fellow Africans Why would a society that liberated itself in the name of human rights turn against people who escaped human rights violations or unlivable conditions at home What happened to the expected African solidarity Why do former victims become victimizers Imagined Liberation asks what xenophobic societies can learn from other immigrant societies which avoided the backlash against multiculturalism in Europe Active Learning: Theoretical

Perspectives, Empirical Studies and Design Profiles Robert Cassidy, Elizabeth S. Charles, James D. Slotta, Nathaniel Lasry, 2019-07-11 This book represents the emerging efforts of a growing international network of researchers and practitioners to promote the development and uptake of evidence based pedagogies in higher education at something a level approaching large scale impact By offering a communication venue that attracts and enhances much needed partnerships among practitioners and researchers in pedagogical innovation we aim to change the conversation and focus on how we work and learn together i e extending the implementation and knowledge of co design methods In this first edition of our Research Topic on Active Learning we highlight two of the three types of publications we wish to promote First are studies aimed at understanding the pedagogical designs developed by practitioners in their own practices by bringing to bear the theoretical lenses developed and tested in the education research community These types of studies constitute the practice pull that we see as a necessary counterbalance to knowledge push in a more productive pedagogical innovation ecosystem based on research practitioner partnerships Second are studies empirically examining the implementations of evidence based designs in naturalistic settings and under naturalistic conditions Interestingly the teams conducting these studies are already exemplars of partnerships between researchers and practitioners who are uniquely positioned as in betweens straddling the two worlds As a result these publications represent both the rigours of research and the pragmatism of reflective practice In forthcoming editions we will add to this collection a third type of publication design profiles These will present practitioner developed pedagogical designs at varying levels of abstraction to be held to scrutiny amongst practitioners instructional designers and researchers alike We hope by bringing these types of studies together in an open access format that we may contribute to the development of new forms of practitioner researcher interactions that promote co design in pedagogical innovation
