Challenged interviewee

I worked in several departments and gained knowledge about all aspects of the business.

I believe this will allow me to acquire more skills and boost my earnings.

My goal is to the States, although I improved my employability, and working for IBM certainly enhanced my CV.

On my business studies course I received many hours from practicing managers and obtained experience in real placements.

Student A

I wasn't a very motivated student when I was younger, so I failed my exams in 1999 and had to take them the following summer. I'd already decided I wanted to take a gap year then for business school, so this time I completed all the coursework and revised thoroughly. I passed easily. I spent a year abroad as an assistant in a secondary school and then went to business school - I'd already applied and successfully attended an interview before starting my exams.

On my second year as an undergraduate, I spent a semester as an intern at Harvard Business School, which was very rewarding. In fact, I went straight into a job at IBM after I graduated the following year. They encouraged me to do a Master's degree by correspondence - I just have to finish writing a dissertation. I need a break now, but I may take a sabbatical to study for an MBA in a few years' time.
